TWO'S COMPANY, THREE'S HOME

It was all right for Marian Nixon, former screen star, and William Seiter, prominent director, to go along on the momentum of love, since their marriage in August, 1934. Miss Nixon has retired from films to assume full duties of mother and wife.

Six Billion U. S. Deficit Sets Record

MORGENTHAU SAYS BONUS IS TO BLAME

Secretary of Treasury Predicts Payments Will Total $2,675,000,000

WASHINGTON, April 30.—(UP)—Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr., today estimated the 1936 fiscal year deficit would hit an all-time peace-time record high of $5,960,000,000.

Morgenthau, appealing to the senate finance committee for enactment of President Roosevelt's full tax program, revealed that bonus payments and other developments since presentation of President Roosevelt's budget message in January, had shot the estimated deficit up from $3,234,507,392 to only a few million dollars short of $6,000,000,000.

At the same time, he estimated the 1937 deficit would drop to about $2,675,000,000. The president in his budget message estimated the 1937 deficit at about $1,098,000,000 without taking account of relief expenditures.

Attributes Increase to Bonus
Morgenthau attributed the increase almost entirely to bonus payments which he predicted would tap treasury resources for about $2,237,000,000.

Had it not been for this factor, he said, a steadily reduced deficit might have been expected. The largest previous peace time deficit was in 1934 when it amounted to $3,955,391,685.

Morgenthau's testimony was supported by that of Internal Revenue Commissioner Guy T. Helvering. Both were subject to cross-examination by Republican committee members, especially concerning the corporate tax changes recommended.

House Begins Consideration Of Huge Peace Time Navy Measure

WASHINGTON, April 30.—(UP)—The house appropriations committee today reported favorably a peace time, record-breaking $531,068,707 navy supply bill calling for construction of 12 destroyers, six submarines, two battleships, 333 airplanes and heavy increases in personnel for the next fiscal year.

House leaders planned to bring the measure to the floor today for prompt consideration with hopes for passage early next week in their drive for early adjournment. Completion of the navy bill will leave only the deficiency bill carrying $1,500,000,000 for relief and the last major "must" piece of legislation on the house slate.

The bill, as reported, is $41,792,732 larger than the appropriation for the current fiscal year but $18,522,592 less than budget estimates for 1937.

In a last hour move, the committee decided to insert and "if" clause permitting construction of two giant 35,000-ton battleships for replacement of obsolete craft after December 31, 1936, when the Washington treaty would permit laying down replacements of over age dreadnaughts.

The clause would be effective only should any signatory power to the London treaty in 1936 or the recent London agreement undertake any battleship construction. The clause was inserted to permit the United States to match any other foreign battleship building program but the committee said that it was unwilling to recommend that the navy department should be given "carte blanche" in battleship replacement.

"Our government, which has taken the lead in moves to control production and compete with private industry."

The proposal, recommended by the resolutions committee, were made near the end of an annual C. of C. meeting during which New Deal policies were attacked by speakers and just as vigorously defended by high government officials.

Another proposed resolution denounced any attempt to "minimize the power or diminish the jurisdiction" of the Supreme Court and federal courts.

The resolutions will be voted on late today.

The committee also presented a resolution approving the action of the board of directors in authorizing appointment of a special committee to study the possibilities of reemployment by private enterprise.

"We urge the cooperation of commercial organizations, manufacturers' associations, trade associations and all government agencies to the end that the efforts of the special committee may be expedited and made complete," the committee report stated.

A proposed resolution on "business and social security" said, in part:

"The true function of government is to maintain equality of opportunity for all, to preserve the sanctity of contracts and to assume those collective activities which society must conduct as a whole."

"When government attempts by legislative means or executive fiat to impose upon business rules of conduct pertaining to such matters as to maintain equality of opportunity for all, to preserve the sanctity of contracts and to assume those collective activities which society must conduct as a whole."

STABS BROKER

"He said I was no longer good enough for him," Mrs. Lorette Kruger, 32, told police who questioned her about seven knife wounds inflicted on her husband, Randolph J. Kruger, wealthy Brooklyn real estate broker. Kruger said he was stabbed while he slept; his wife said she acted in self-defense. They had quarreled over his alleged attentions to other women.

ALL FASCISTS ARE CALLED OUT BY DUCE

Millions Requested to Be "Ready in Uniform on Friday"

BULLETIN
GENEVA, April 30.—(UP)—Diplomatic advisers from Rome, unconfirmed from any other source, today said the Italian foreign office has been informed foreign diplomats at Addis Ababa have been captured.

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON, April 30.—(UP)—The house unexpectedly began consideration of the $531,068,707 "big navy" bill today in a surprise move designed to pass the measure before the end of the week.

ROME, April 30.—(UP)—The government ordered all Fascist organizations today to "stand ready in uniform" tomorrow.

It was presumed the order meant another vast "test mobilization" of Fascist strength after announcement of the fall of Addis Ababa.

Sirens, whistles and bells probably will give the signal throughout the country for the mobilization of some 10,000,000 Fascist men, women and children when news of the capture of Addis Ababa arrives.

Fascist leaders received red cards this afternoon bearing the following instructions:

"Dear Comrade: You are requested to be ready in uniform on Friday, May 1, for a signal."

Ordered to Posts
The curt request was interpreted as meaning that all Fascists are expected to report to their posts immediately after the whistles blow, similarly to the first mobilization on Oct. 2 last, the day before the war started.

School directors were understood to have been instructed to dismiss pupils when the signal sounds. Further instructions to the Fascists were expected tonight.

Rome Fascists, it was understood, will gather in the Palazzo Venezia to hear a speech by Premier Benito Mussolini.

COMMODITIES PRICE MEASURE IS PASSED

WASHINGTON, April 30.—(UP)—The senate today passed the Robinson bill to prevent unfair price discrimination after reversing an earlier decision and accepting the Vandenberg resolution permitting exemptions for industries under certain conditions.

The bill makes it unlawful for any person engaged in commerce to discriminate in price between purchasers of commodities of like grade and quality.

Sen. Arthur Vandenberg, R., Mich., protested that the measure put the automobile industry potentially at the mercy of the federal trade commission and offered an amendment, eventually accepted by the senate, intended to protect them from this threat.

WASHINGTON, April 30.—(UP)—The U. S. Navy, in the event of war, would need about 26,000 officers and 182,000 men within four months, according to navy estimates revealed today. The present strength of the navy is around 87,000.

America's initial war needs on the sea were made known when the annual navy appropriation bill made public testimony given before it by naval officers in February.

This estimate was submitted to the committee by Rear Admiral Adolphus Andrews, chief of the bureau of navigation in the navy department.

TROUBLE BREWS IN EGYPT; BOY KING EN ROUTE

LONDON, April 30.—(UP)—King Farouk of Egypt, called to the throne of the Pharaohs by the death of his father Fuad I, left the closely guarded seclusion of an English country home today for Cairo.

A few hours before he left King Edward received him at Buckingham palace to offer condolences. King Farouk, who is only 15, left for Dover on a special royal train. The Duke of Kent said farewell at Victoria station, on behalf of King Edward.

CAIRO, April 30.—(UP)—Seven nationalists were killed, three were wounded seriously and a score wounded slightly in an election fight at a village north of Cairo yesterday, it was disclosed today.

The fight was the first disorder since the death Tuesday of King Fuad, and was a grave portent of trouble that may come in the struggle for political domination among the parties.

King Fuad was buried near his ancestors at El Rafai mosque today after a silent, impressive funeral procession from the Koubbeh palace.

THREATEN REPRISAL FOR NAZI INSULTS

SAN PEDRO, Cal., April 30.—(UP)—A. T. Simmonds, who left a German world cruise ship in Manila, charging prosecution by Nazi passengers because of his views on Adolf Hitler, arrived aboard the liner Malao today declaring "They'll hear more about this when I get back to New York."

Simmonds, Boston capitalist, walked off the Hamburg-American liner Reliance after cableing ahead to Manila to be met at the dock by the police chief and a squad of detectives.

He said his wife was spat upon and jostled aboard ship. A young German who danced with her was threatened with imprisonment by the Nazis, because of an interview Simmonds gave a British newspaper in Singapore, he alleged.

In the interview, just after Germany re-militarized the Rhineland, Simmonds said "neither the United States nor anyone else can make agreements with the Germans when they regard treaties as scraps of paper."

WPA Workers Must Take Jobs On Farm

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—(UP)—Able-bodied men employed on Works Relief Administration projects must accept work on California farms, provided a "reasonable wage" is offered them, or be dropped from the relief rolls, Frank Y. McLaughlin, state W. P. A. administrator, said today.

McLaughlin said the WPA would be satisfied with the prevailing wage scale for farm labor but "even this is considered in some circles to be notoriously low."

PUGILIST HELD AFTER RAID ON BOOKIE'S HOME

LOS ANGELES, April 30.—(UP)—Jimmy Murphy, 28-year-old prizefighter and ex-convict, confessed today, according to police, to complicity in a machine gun raid on a Hollywood bookmaker's home in search of a $250,000 diamond fortune.

Arrested after he had been treated for knife wounds, Murphy finally broke under questioning and reportedly named two accomplices as the gunmen who surprised two police officers as they blundered into the house and at the point of a machine gun trussed them up while an ineffectual search was made for the gems that were not there.

At first, Murphy had insisted he was hurt in a street brawl. Later, police said, he admitted being attacked by his two confederates who were angered at him giving them a "bum steer" in the professed burglary.

While the suspect was making his reputed confession, police took him into technical custody a man and a woman for questioning. Murphy's wife, Edna, also was being questioned.

According to investigators, the

ROCK SLIDE KILLS PLACERVILLE MINER

PLACERVILLE, April 30.—(UP)—Floyd Haddow, 35, Placerville, was killed instantly and Earl Hamilton suffered serious injuries when they were buried under a rock slide today at the Montezuma-Apex mine, 18 miles south of here.

The cave-in occurred on the 700-foot level. Co-workers rescued Hamilton and recovered the body of Haddow shortly after the miners were trapped.

It was the second mine fatality in the Placerville district this week. Peter Mare was killed Tuesday when his drill struck a "missed" charge of dynamite in the Gold Reserve mine.

BRIDGE PLAYERS SET FOR BATTLE ON COPS

NEW YORK, April 30.—(UP)—A million-dollar industry (a billion-dollar industry, some said) lined up its lawyers today to squelch a heresy and impudent cops.

The policemen said they were prepared to prove in court that people who play duplicate contract bridge are "no better than crap shooters" and that people who run the game—people like Ely Culbertson, P. Hal Sims, Commander Winfield Liggett Jr., etc.—are no better than race bookies. The bridge people hired lawyers.

Unofficial interpreters of the law said if the police proved their point an estimated 20,000,000 bridge players would automatically become potential jailbirds and a booming industry manufacturing bridge players' equipment, printing bridge players' books and magazines, and

CONVICTED SLAYER ESCAPES GALLOWS

LOS ANGELES, April 30.—(UP)—Fred Stettler, 25-year-old Swiss immigrant, today indicated he was "satisfied" with a life imprisonment sentence recommended by a jury which last night found him guilty on two counts of first degree murder.

The blond youth had his attorney, Deputy Public Defender E. L. Cuff, withdraw a plea of not guilty by reason of insanity after hearing he had escaped the gallows.

Stettler is to be sentenced tomorrow by Superior Judge Joseph Vickers for the "clock" murder of Carl S. Barbour and Dorothea Barbour, wealthy couple with whom he once resided.

Relief Rolls In State Take Drop

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—(UP)—Work relief and direct relief rolls in California have declined steadily for eight successive weeks, Frank Y. McLaughlin, state WPA administrator, reported today in his report for the week ending April 24.

WPA reported 1725 persons, he said, while SRA rolls decreased by 1407 persons. The majority of those leaving relief work or rolls returned to private employment, McLaughlin said.

ALTER RECORDS IN ACTRESS' SHOOTING

NEW YORK, April 30.—(UP)—Police called to the apartment of Sidney Kingsley, young Pulitzer prize playwright, when beautiful Doris Dudley was shot there last night, altered their records today to classify the shooting an accident.

They reported first that Miss Dudley, 18-year-old star of a Broadway hit show and daughter of Bide Dudley, dramatic critic, shot herself at the climax of a lovers' quarrel. She and Kingsley have been reported engaged ever since a marriage contracted when she was 14 was annulled last summer. She has a 2-year-old son.

The original police report said Miss Dudley, after a tiff with Kingsley, locked herself in the bathroom of his apartment and shot herself in the breast with a .22 caliber rifle.

Kingsley said the police report was an "unfortunate mistake." Miss Dudley was shot accidentally, he said, while examining a target rifle.

LANDON HOLDS FAVORITE SPOT IN G. O. P. RACE

WASHINGTON, April 30.—(UP)—Spectacular presidential preference polling in Massachusetts moved Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas today into a position of undisputed advantage in the race for Republican nomination.

The "Kansas Coolidge" has at least one leg on the presidential cup. He will be tested again May 5 in California and South Dakota. The Hearst-Merriam forces are backing Landon on the West Coast against a slate of uninstructed delegates allied with former President Hoover.

Landon is not entered in South Dakota but an "uninstructed" slate favorable to him will oppose delegates pledged to Sen. William E. Borah, who has formally entered the primary in that state.

If Landon takes California and South Dakota it will require a political miracle to upset his bandwagon.

In Massachusetts' Tuesday primary, Landon ran up a 10 to 1 lead over former President Hoover, the Bay State's second choice.

President Roosevelt was unopposed and swept the Massachusetts Democratic primary as was expected. Pennsylvania's presidential preference primaries also took place Tuesday.

In almost complete returns Mr. Roosevelt was moving toward 900,000 votes compared to around 300,000 for Col. Henry Breckinridge, his Democratic opponent. In the Republican primary Sen. William E. Borah, unopposed, polled fewer than 300,000 votes.

Neither the Massachusetts nor Pennsylvania primaries is binding upon delegates although both Democratic groups are bound otherwise to Mr. Roosevelt. Both

CHARGE TOWNSEND PROMISED $12,000

LOS ANGELES, April 30.—(UP)—A former Townsend pension plan promoter charged before a congressional sub-committee today that Dr. Frank E. Townsend was promised $12,000 in exchange for his support to Gov. Frank P. Merriam in the 1934 California gubernatorial election.

The charge was made during questioning of E. E. Tomlinson, Los Angeles engineer and former "contract promoter" of the old pension movement.

Tomlinson said Townsend never received the money, although in an editorial in his Weekly Journal he endorsed Merriam who was running against Upton Sinclair, the Democratic standard-bearer.

Rep. Joseph A. Gavanagh, D., N. Y., said unless orders to the contrary were received from Washington, the hearing would be concluded tonight.

Big Boulder Dam Storage Forecast

WASHINGTON, April 30.—(UP)—Federal reclamation officials predicted today that Boulder Dam would store 17,900,000 acre feet of Colorado river water between April 1 and Dec. 31, "an amount comfortably in excess of normal and greatly exceeding the runoff of recent abnormally dry years."

Acting reclamation commissioner John C. Page, said Lake Mead would be filled to more than half its 30,000,000 acre feet capacity by the end of 1936 despite use of water for irrigation and power generation.

Ocean-Going Rattlers In 'Tall Story'

SAN DIEGO, Cal., April 30.—(UP)—The year's tallest fish story to date is about a snake. Glenn Womack of Escondido said he was fishing on Lake Hodges and saw something peculiar on the surface. He rowed closer and saw it was a large rattlesnake, "coiled and ready to strike."

Womack said he killed the amphibian rattler with an oar. A second story of water-loving rattlesnakes filtered back from fishermen off the coast of Lower California. They reported they saw what appeared to be a school of eels nearby. They said they fished one up, and it was a rattler with seven rattles.

TWO NEW FIGURES IN WENDEL CASE

NEW YORK, April 30.—(UP)—The Wendel case, bizarre by-product of the execution of Bruno Richard Hauptmann, enmeshed two new figures today—a mysterious woman smuggled out of a Brooklyn police station swathed in a white sheet, and a Trenton bookmaker charged with being an accessory to the abduction and torture of Paul H. Wendel.

The woman in white was believed to be an informant. Several hours after she had been questioned by District Attorney William F. Z. Geoghan of Brooklyn, a squad car of detectives took her to Trenton, N. J., where Sol Marcus, a well-known gambling figure, was hauled out of bed and taken to state police headquarters.

Marcus was charged specifically with violating a section of the New York penal law relating to kidnapping, but authorities refused to say just how he fitted into the complex pattern that delayed the execution of Hauptmann for three days.

English Critic Escapes Gallows

LONDON, April 30.—(UP)—Douglas Burton, book critic, escaped the gallows for the killing of Douglas Bosc with a sculptor's hammer in an argument over Sylvia Gough, former famous beauty, when a jury in old Bailey court found him guilty but insane today.

Bosc lived with Miss Gough. She told Burton Bosc had beaten her and Burton attacked him with a hammer at a studio party.

Hair Dye Really Vanishing Cream

TULSA, Okla., April 30.—(UP)—A bit of retouching with dye, thought O. Sager, Tulsa mechanic, would work wonders with the moustache he already considered a splendid adornment.

Sager applied the dye. Then he went to bed.

In the morning his moustache was gone—so was part of his lip. He filed suit for $2365 damages.

Roosevelt To Keep Watchful Eye On California Vote

BOURBON PARTY 3-WAY RACE TO BE SIGNIFICANT

SACRAMENTO, April 30.—(UP)—One of President Roosevelt's most significant primary contests will be decided Tuesday when California Democrats choose a delegation to attend the national Bourbon convention in June.

The party's voters will have the choice of three delegations, pledged respectively to the president, Upton Sinclair and Congressman John Steven McGroarty.

The "official" Roosevelt slate, approved by the president, is headed by Senator William Gibbs Millers. Because the Epics were given so little representation on the ticket, Sinclair formed a delegation of his own, heading it is the nominal choice for the presidency. McGroarty based his hopes on supporters of the Townsend old age pension plan, which he introduced to congress last year.

Neither Sinclair nor McGroarty had any serious thought of competing with President Roosevelt at the convention, and each promised to swing his delegation to the president—if successful at the primary—after one complimentary vote.

Main Purposes

The main purpose of each was to seek a method of carrying the banners of Epic and Townsend, respectively, to the Democratic assembly.

Sinclair generally was conceded a much better chance than McGroarty of polling an important vote. The result of the Bourbon contest was expected to show rather conclusively the real strength of the Epic faction in California, and almost for that reason alone was the Democratic primary considered of any great importance.

Fundamentally, it will make little difference which of the three delegations wins. The president will receive California's 44 convention votes anyway. Supporters of the president point out, however, that should Sinclair or McGroarty win, and Roosevelt be nominated on the first ballot at the convention, California would be recorded as opposed to him because the first vote of this state's delegation would go to Sinclair or McGroarty.

Dopsters predicted the three tickets would finish in the following order: Roosevelt, Sinclair, McGroarty, with the president far in the lead and therefore assured of California's 44 delegate votes right from the start.

The drive for votes, comparatively inactive thus far, will reach a peak during the next few days.

CAR OVERTURNS ON ROAD; MAN JAILED

Following a report to the sheriff's office by M. E. Obar, 1520 North Main street, Santa Ana, that a car was overturned on West First street, a mile east of Midway City last night, Highway Patrol Officer Horace Inge went to the scene to find the car wrecked but no one injured. Charlie Chaplin, 35-year-old farmer, of Riverside, owner of the car, was found nearby and arrested on a charge of being drunk on a county highway, jail records show. He was examined by Dr. H. G. Huffman, Santa Ana, and found under the influence of intoxicants, according to the medical report. There were no witnesses to the alleged driving by Chaplin.

Pugilist was identified by Radio Patrolman James Le Berthon as one of the three gunmen who overpowered him and his fellow-officer, Richard Hicks, as they opened the front and rear door of W. A. (Hep) Griffin's home late yesterday. Confronting the startled officers with a machine gun, the bandits coolly trussed them up with rope, fiddled around a wall safe they believed contained the diamond cache and then fled without prying open the inner door. The diamonds, however, were not there. Griffin having sold them several months ago.

Murphy was taken into tow as a suspect after being treated at the hospital for 12 knife wounds. As two officers were driving him back home, two other detectives who had questioned him chanced to display his photograph to an investigator, assigned to the holdup case.

"Why, that's the mug we're looking for," he said.

A radio call overtook Murphy and the police car before it reached his home and he was brought into headquarters for questioning.

Police said Murphy has been arrested 17 times since 1926. They said he served three years of a 99-year term for the asserted murder of a soldier in Texas but was paroled.

Police said Griffin informed them he had entertained Murphy and his wife at his home about a year ago and had shown them his collection of diamonds.

HOUSE BEGINS CONSIDERATION OF NAVY BILL

tribute to the maintenance of the general peace and to reduce the burden of competition in armaments, should be the last to take the initiative but neither should we permit ourselves to become lagards again as was the case following the Washington treaty," the committee wrote.

The bill calls for:

1—Increase in enlisted strength from the present 88,000 men to an average of 96,500.

2—Increase in marine corps personnel from 16,000 to 17,000.

3—Expenditure of $182,500,000 for continuing work on ships under construction and the 12 destroyers and six submarines to be laid down.

4—Appropriation of $40,000,000 for aviation development including 333 new planes or about the same outlay of funds for the current fiscal year.

Officials Condemned
While advocating the principles of the Vinson-Trammell act to bring the United States navy to full treaty provisions, the committee bitterly condemned navy officials for their "disregard" of material cost estimates for maintaining such a force.

The committee asserted that officials a year ago told them a maximum cost of maintaining such a navy would not exceed $555,000,000 annually. It pointed out that the present bill closely approaches that figure despite considerable trimming.

"Those who are opposed to large naval expenditures and those who stand for a treaty navy but who keep a weather eye on the costs, would do well to inquire as to all legislation proposed whether or not it occasions an increase in any of the items contributing to the $555,000,000," the committee wrote.

The committee recommended against the government attempting to construct its own planes other than for training types and said that the navy should not attempt to manufacture its own engines.

The committee added $150,000 to the bill for preliminary work in connection with construction of an additional graving dock at the Mare Island navy yard (California).

PREDICT ODORLESS CABBAGE BY 1938

ITHACA, N. Y.—Odorless cabbage, discovered at Cornell University a few months ago, probably will go on the market in about two years.

It will be that long before enough seed is produced to make it commercially profitable to grow the new type cabbage, according to Prof. C. H. Myers, who spent six years before he found a way to take the odor out of the vegetable.

More than 1,000 heads of the odorless cabbage have been produced in Cornell laboratories and are guarded to preserve their seed from contamination with smelly relatives. It is estimated that 15,000 seeds will be obtained from the cabbage.

Several small lots are being used to produce the cabbage for seed.

Police News

Larry Wicks, 1223 North Ross, reported to city police this morning that while he was visiting the Ross street store opposite the high school grounds yesterday morning before school, someone stole his $45 Martin trumpet which he had left in its case, outside of the store. He did not report the theft at once, he said, because he thought fellow-students might have been playing a joke on him.

Bert Ball and Bill Brown paid $2 each in city court yesterday after pleading guilty to use of defective muffler on their cars, while $1 was paid by Maurice Lichenstein for overtime parking.

A black leather purse, found by James Hinton along a row of trees near 1022 Halladay street, was turned over to city police last night by S. E. Salter, 701 Halladay street. An owner is being sought. No money was reported found in the purse.

Fenders were bent but no one was injured as cars driven by C. M. Lummings, 511 East Fifteenth street, and Catherine Floyd, 1013 North Van Ness, collided at Fifth and Barton yesterday afternoon. Officer Ed Lentz investigated.

Two transients, one of whom was arrested after he was discovered crawling under a vacant house at 410 Grant street, at 7:45 last night, were charged by city police with vagrancy. Nishan Arlan, 37, who said he was a chef, born in France, and a "resident" of Santa Ana for one day and of the state for one month, admitted he was not a plumber when Officers Charles Neer and A. F. Moulton asked him what he was doing under the house. William Harris, 26, also was "vagranted" after he was reported begging in the 2000-block of West Eighth yesterday afternoon. Harris, Missourian, said he had been here five days and in the state three months.

Instructor Earhart Soon to Have 'Flying Lab'

Pictured above helping Capt. G. W. Haskins in his lecture on aerodynamics in a Purdue University classroom, Amelia Earhart, first woman to fly the Atlantic, soon will have a "flying laboratory" all her own. In a huge plane now under construction at Burbank, Calif., the ace aviatrix will hop about the world, for "field tests," when not using the plane for experimental work at Purdue's airport. Her craft—a twin-motored, 10-passenger, low-wing monoplane, equipped with extra gas tanks, robot pilot, de-icing appliances, radio "homing" device, and all other aids to aerial navigation—was purchased by means of a $50,000 fund contributed by members of the Purdue Research Foundation.

SUN BLAMED FOR 'FADE-OUT' MYSTERY IN RADIO CIRCLES

MT. WILSON, Cal., April 30.—(UP)—Dr. R. S. Richardson of Mt. Wilson observatory today announced what astronomers here consider the first definite evidence that the sun is reaching out with a 90,000,000-mile hand and paralyzing earthly radios at regular 54-day intervals.

After coordinating reports of English and American wireless stations and a South American observatory, he revealed that on April 8, within one minute of the time the sun beamed forth a mighty cloud of gas, commercial radios went dead for more than a quarter hour and the earth's magnetic field underwent a quick readjustment.

A rough alignment of solar eruptions and radio disturbances has been found previously. But this, Dr. Richardson said, is the first time the sun was found quite definitely to blame for the baffling "fade-outs," and also the first time the intensity and direction of the magnetic field was observed to shift.

It indicates, he said, that the sun is paralyzing radios with a form of radiant energy shooting earthward at the speed of light—186,000 miles a second or eight minutes for the 96 million mile trip.

Through the observatory's powerful 150-foot tower telescope, Dr. Richardson is snapping pictures of the sun every two minutes during periods that fade-outs are expected. The fade-outs occur only on the half of the earth being lighted by the sun. They affect high-frequency, but not broadcasting stations.

LANDON HOLDS SIX BILLIONS FAVORITE SPOT U. S. DEFICIT IN G. O. P. RACE SETS RECORD

Republican delegates are unimpressed. Some observers believe Landon would have polled a greater vote than Mr. Roosevelt if he had entered the Pennsylvania primary. The state Republican organization is understood to be sympathetic to Landon and none expects Pennsylvania to cast its convention votes for Borah merely because he won a complimentary preference vote Tuesday.

Approximately 25 per cent of the electors in either state took the trouble to vote at all. In Massachusetts fewer than half of those who voted expressed any presidential preference. It was necessary in Massachusetts to write in the presidential preference.

Despite the small percentage of persons who expressed a preference, the Massachusetts vote is a persuasive sample of New England opinion.

National polls over a period of months and localized "samplers" have been remarkably consistent in showing Landon to be a favorite among Republicans of almost all classes and all localities.

Landon is now so far in the lead that stop-Landon movements are discernable among other Republican groups whose only hope is to blast the Landon boom before the Republicans gather in Cleveland on June 2.

CARDS INSPIRED BY RETURN OF GIANTS

NEW YORK, April 30.—(UP)—The New York Giants and the St. Louis Cardinals are feuding again. The sight of William (Memphis Bill) Terry and his Giants stalking into Sportsman's park apparently has the same effect on the "Gashouse Gang" as a red flag has to a bull.

The feud began in 1934 when the Giants, with the National league pennant all but clinched, settled back to coast down the stretch. The rude awakening when the Cards beat the Giants out of the pennant on the final day of the season furnished one of the most dramatic finishes in baseball history.

Last year the Giants held the league lead nearly four months before the Cardinals moved ahead in an eight-game winning streak. The Giants broke badly, playing 600 ball for the remainder of the season, to finish a poor third.

History repeated itself yesterday as Leroy Parmelee bested Carl Hubbell in a 17-inning pitchers' duel which the Cards won, 2 to 1. Both teams played nearly perfect ball more than 31-2 hours before the Giants cracked up in the 17th, committed two errors, and tossed away the ball game.

Maxie departed Sacramento yesterday with a musicians' union card in his pocket.

He announced he will become a band leader, although he plays no musical instrument.

The band he will lead, Maxie said, was organized by Carlos Gascell and was reported to have been stranded in Southern California after putting in 10 weeks at rehearsal when Gus Arnheim, a musician and band leader of considerable standing, refused to go on the road with the organization.

Amel Hoffman, Maxie's manager, is backing him on a proposed tour of the Pacific coast.

ADDIS ABABA, April 30.—(UP)—Emperor Haile Selassie ordered the capital left undefended today, hoping the Italians would occupy it without bloodshed.

He sent 3000 of his troops back from the line of the Italian advance.

The government prepared to leave for an unknown destination, leaving the Blata Takalla, a high local official, to remain with the police until the last moment to preserve order.

Heavy storm clouds gathered to the north, and gave him hope of the nature of the population that the forces of nature might impede the conquerors.

Hot heads talked of gathering men and going out to meet the Italians but most people prayed for rain.

Airport Fired On
British Red Cross men, who arrived as an Italian plane swept down over the airport and raked it with machine gun fire, reported the Italians about 60 miles from the capital.

They appeared, the Red Cross men said, to have left their motorized equipment at the foot of the Shula Meda mountain pass on the other side of Debra Berhan, the position at which the Italians were reported.

Heavy rain, authorities believed here, would make it impossible for the Italians to bring any motorized equipment. They say that traffic through the pass is impossible after a rain under normal conditions.

Now the roads have been damaged as much as possible, in anticipation of the Italian advance, and authorities believe they could not be repaired after a heavy rain.

"It is estimated," Helvering said, "that more than 71 per cent of the increase in taxable income would be received by individuals with net incomes of more than $25,000 a year and about 45 per cent by $100,000."

Court Notes

Edward L. Clements, represented by Attorney Stephen F. Gallagher, of Anaheim, has filed suit in superior court against Roy A. Stillman, asking $500 damages for injuries received March 24 when he was struck by Stillman's car while crossing Center street, Anaheim, on the cross-walk between Los Angeles and Lemon streets.

The plaintiff suffered a broken leg and other injuries.

Samuel G. Clark, of Anaheim, today filed a petition in superior court to probate the will of his father, the late Byron Clark, who died in Anaheim last Monday, leaving a $9500 estate to his son and three daughters.

The latter are Anna and Lenora Clark, of Anaheim, and Emma L. Hubbell, of Santa Cruz. The estate consists of real estate at 503 Zeyn street, Anaheim, and ranch property in Los Angeles county.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Beek, of Balboa, obtained judgment against Roy J. Lyon, lessee of the anchorage basin in Newport Harbor, when Superior Judge James L. Allen gave his decision late yesterday constraining rental terms of the lease to be as stated in the lease. Lyon contended that the lease did not state the intention of the parties.

Beek also asked judgment for $375 alleged to be due under the lease, which provided for a sliding scale of monthly rental, based upon gross receipts from the anchorage.

The Bank of America was plaintiff in a superior court suit on file today against Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Wilcox, asking judgment for $1076 alleged to be due on a note.

CHAMBER ASKED TUSTIN CLERK TO DEMAND CUT ACTS AS OWN IN U. S. COSTS LAWYER: WINS

as wages, hours, conditions and terms of employment, or other restrictive measures interfering with the free play of economic forces, it retards both the material and spiritual progress of the nation."

A resolution on "Government Control of Production," said: "To the imposition of codes upon industry by administrative or executive authority, the chamber has repeatedly expressed its opposition. Proposed federal legislation intended to bring about government control over hours and wages in enterprises performing work on government contracts would involve the imposition of codes in a most objectionable form."

"Government determination of hours of work and wage rates in private enterprises engaged in government contracts necessarily would affect terms of employment throughout industry and would result in uneconomic rigidity of business operations, thus producing general public detriment."

The chamber continues to oppose government control of production whether attempted directly or through such indirect means as through legislation prescribing terms of employment to be observed in connection with government contracts. Federal control of production in private enterprise is indefensible and against the public interest.

The proposed resolution on government competition said the chamber reiterated its advocacy of legislation to require federal agencies engaged in "competitive activities to keep and to disclose to the public a record of its costs, with allowances for all such items as depreciation, insurance and taxes incurred by private enterprise."

The first step in bringing order into the finances of the federal government should be reduction of expenditures both by congress and by the executive to those amounts which are needed for efficient accomplishment of purposes which are necessary and appropriate for the federal government.

"There should be an accompanying system of federal taxation that will have as its purpose the provision of revenues adequate to meet these expenditures through taxes that are equitably distributed and that do not by encroachment threaten the revenues of states and local governments."

"The bill now pending in congress is not a measure of this kind and should have no place in the legislation of a period of economic recovery."

Los Angeles, April 30.—Twenty-seven of the west's leading track and field athletes, nearly all of them with Olympic team aspirations, will represent the Olympic club of San Francisco against the University of Southern California in the Coliseum Saturday.

Coach Charley Hunter of the clubmen today submitted an entry list that guarantees a battle for the undefeated Trojans in every event. World Record Holders Ben Eastman in the half-mile and Walter Marty in the high jump and National Champion Elroy Robinson in the 880 head an all-star lineup that includes such outstanding performers as Norman Bright in the distances, Gordon (Slinger) Dunn, Henri LaBorde and Bob Jones in the weights, John Mottram in the javelin, Bob Clark in the broad jump, Milton Holt in the sprints and J. Blackman in the quarter.

Eastman is entered in both the half-mile and relay. Robinson is scheduled to run the half and mile and Bright is slated to run the mile and two-mile. By doubling up these performers and supporting them with good strength in every event, the Olympians, who recently handed California a 75-1-2 to 55-1-2 beating, may go into the meet favored over Coach Dean Cromwell's powerful S. C. team.

William J. White, court reporter in department two of superior court, and Mrs. White will move shortly from their home at 2134 North Ross street, Santa Ana, to a residence they have leased at Coast Royal.

Deputy Sheriff Fred Humiston, in department three of superior court, is confined to his home by an attack of influenza.

Fleeing Dreaded Penal Colony

Though they faced pitiless odds in their gamble for freedom, several fugitives from the French penal settlement of Cayenne, French Guiana, near the dreaded Devil's Island, temporarily were winning when, after a long, harrowing passage over treacherous sea, they reached Trinidad, B. W. I. They were not allowed to land, but were given rest, food, and a new boat; and a native policeman and a fisherman, shown at bow and stern, conveyed them out to sea, to try for another refuge. Two of the convicts are shown shielding their faces from the camera.

FORUM TOLD GOV. LANDON IS MAN TO LEAD NATION BACK TO SAFE, SANE BUSINESS METHODS

Declaring that the record of Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas, is one without parallel and that he is the logical man to lead the nation back to safe and sane business methods Fred Witman, Los Angeles business man spoke here last night on the Forum for Economic and Political Education, in the Unitarian church.

Speaking on behalf of the candidacy of Landon for the Republican presidential nomination, Witman warned against voting for an untested delegate to the Cleveland convention of the party. "There is no untested delegation," he said. "The so-called untested delegation is pledged to Earl Warren and under the oath which the delegates are required to sign they pledge themselves to support Earl Warren. There is no untested list of delegates in the field and any other statement is false. If they tell you that they are pledged to Warren but will support Landon, their oath is perjury and the action a token of irresponsibility."

Witman also declared during the question period that followed his talk that the support of Landon's candidacy by William Randolph Hearst is "invaluable." In that there is a marginal vote of approximately 10,000,000 people in the United States that can be swung toward either party, The Hearst papers reach approximately 50 per cent of these marginal voters, he declared.

Achievements in Kansas since taking over the office of governor of Kansas in 1932 were outlined by Witman who said "this man must have some magic to do what he did in 1932. To be elected governor of Kansas, a Republican, by the same voters who gave Franklin D. Roosevelt a 75,000 majority is an unparalleled happening."

"Since taking office he has achieved in that state what the Democratic platform promised to the nation, a promise which was ignored and a program that was never attempted. The campaign for Landon for President is a campaign for sanity against New Dealism and we can contrast the experiments and social vivisection of the New Deal with the commonsense business achievements of Landon as Governor of Kansas where he has reduced the cost of government 20 per cent at no decrease in the value of public service of government."

"Landon realizes that you never get something for nothing and that you cannot spend what you do not have unless you spend the price of silver for four members of four different firms, long established in silver brokerage, who get together every business day for that purpose."

TRUCK TARGET FOR BULLETS IN NIGHT

Mystery still surrounds the statements made to city police last night by A. A. Stevens, truck driver for Southern California Freight Lines, with local headquarters at 727 Stafford, who said he had been made the target for five or six bullets shot from a speeding green roadster which passed him as he approached Santa Ana on 191 highway.

"The speeding car went around me and, as it did, someone inside shot at me five or six times," Stevens said. "Just after the roadster passed me, another speeding car which I took for one belonging to the Orange police, went by in pursuit."

Night Desk Sergeant J. F. McWilliams, who reported the incident occurred about 3:45 a. m. today, said he checked with Orange police but the second car was not theirs. Stevens said he escaped injury.

LOS ANGELES G.O.P. LEADERS BACK LONDON

Twenty-four of the 30 assembly district chairmen of the Los Angeles Republican County Central Committee have endorsed the London-picked ticket of delegates in the Tuesday Republican presidential primary, according to local London for President headquarters.

Indicating that a preponderant majority of the officially chosen heads of the G. O. P. county organization are supporting Gov. Landon for the party's presidential nomination, Ingall W. Bull, chairman, Charles B. Stebbins, secretary, and four of the vice chairmen of the committee joined in the endorsement.

No such overwhelming majority of the Republican committee leaders ever before gave an endorsement to any candidate for party office. It was stated at London campaign headquarters.

All endorsements are personal, county committee members, as such, being prohibited from endorsements until after party candidates are regularly chosen.

"Such an endorsement was never before made by the members of the Los Angeles Republican County Central Committee," said Mr. Bull, the chairman, in announcing the result of the poll of the assembly district chairmen and congressional district vice chairmen.

"Each and every one of the chairmen and vice chairmen listed have signed pledge cards for Gov. Landon. While their endorsements are personal, the signatures mean just as much or more than official endorsements. The voters will, I believe, regard their action as indicative of the feeling of the chosen representatives of the party in the coming contest of ballots."

Officials of the county committee who have personally endorsed the Landon ticket, urging all Republicans to support Gov. Landon on Tuesday are:

Ingall W. Bull, chairman; Charles B. Stebbins, secretary; Leonard O. Hall, Walter D. Newcomb, Jr., A. E. Henning, and Albert G. Mutsch, vice chairmen.

Assembly district chairmen — Walter W. Spear, Forty-second; Owen C. Emery, Forty-third; Charles L. Burton, Forty-fourth; Newman H. Clark, Forty-fifth; Roger N. Bone, Forty-sixth; Mark H. TOASTMASTERS PLAN TO MEET AT SAN DIEGO

Speaking on the history of the development of cooperative societies in England and in this country, David Cherry won first place in the speaking contest at Toastmasters club No. 1 at its regular meeting last night. He traced the growth of the idea from its beginning nearly 100 years ago to its present position of importance and raised the question as to what its possibilities and dangers may be in America.

Robert Korff won second place with a clever talk on "Twe Got Rhythm," depicting the important place held in human life by rhythm and recurrence of events and vibrations.

With Eugene Krueger as toastmaster, other talks presented were "A Noble Experiment," by Arthur Woodworth, "America Leads the Armament Race," by Herbert R. Thomas, and "Story Telling," by R. C. Smedley.

R. Carson Smith acted as general critic. Plans were discussed for sending a delegation to San Diego on Saturday, when the annual high school public speaking contest is to be held at the exposition grounds, being presented in the organ amphitheater at 2:30 p. m.

The occasion is being observed as a district rally of Toastmasters, culminating in a dinner meeting in the evening in the patio of the Spanish Village. The general theme of the evening is to be preparatory to the annual convention of Toastmasters International, to be held at Santa Barbara in August.

R. Y. WILLIAMS TELLS VOTERS HOW HE STANDS

BY R. Y. WILLIAMS

The State Central Committee of the Republican party of California, in conjunction with the representatives of Republican Assembly clubs of California, named a committee to propose 44 uninstructed delegates to be voted upon and, if elected, to represent the Republican voters of California at the National Convention at Cleveland in the selection of nominees for president and vice president, and in the drafting of a sound liberal platform.

The committee has proposed 44 names of representative Republicans from all branches of business, industry, farming, labor and the professions.

The committee did me the honor of placing my name on the ticket. I was never asked to favor any candidate. Each delegate was left free to use his or her best judgment.

This ticket is headed for Earl Warren in order to comply with the California primary law, and in order that the voters might vote for the entire ticket by stamping one square on the ballot.

These delegates, if elected, will go to the Cleveland convention free to discuss and vote for the candidates for president and vice president who in their judgment are best qualified for the positions, and will not be tied or fettered to vote for one particular candidate until released by him. This the Committee appointed by the State Republican Central Committee and Republican Assembly Clubs of California believed will unify the Republicans of California, and save any party dissension among those Republicans favoring any one of the various candidates who have been suggested or have formally announced their candidacy for President of the United States on the Republican ticket.

The majority of the delegates to the Republican National Convention at Cleveland will go uninstructed, as shown by the primary elections already held in other States. This is as it should be for the convention is a convening of delegates to discuss and consider the candidates and the drafting of a platform.

During the course of his address, Booth stated that America was drawn into the World war because of propaganda, private profits, militarism and to protect the American dollar in Europe. He also reiterated that he was against war, not only because of its horrors, but because of its "rotter silliness."

The assembly was held in the Baptist church auditorium. The speaker was introduced by Al Markel, president of the Associated Students.

DR. BOOTH IN SPEECH BEFORE J. C. ASSEMBLY

Dr. Henry Kendall Booth was guest speaker at an assembly of the Santa Ana Junior college held yesterday at 11 a. m. Dr. Booth spoke on the topic of "Peace."

Booth is pastor of a Long Beach church and, according to Director D. K. Hammond, is highly qualified as a speaker and author. Hammond stated that Booth has been a member of the Long Beach school board, has traveled widely, is a past president of the Long Beach Rotary club, and is author of several books.

—News Behind the News—

BY PAUL MALLON

(Copyright, 1936, by Paul Mallon)

NEW GHOST

WASHINGTON, April 30.—It is too much of a White House secret over to be fully proved, but President Roosevelt appears to have been working with a brand new confidential adviser lately. The newcomer is supposed to be a master of radio broadcasting technique, schooled in radio news and religious communication. To him, the closest of insiders attribute a slightly different Rooseveltian style—tone exhibited in the Baltimore and New York speeches.

The world outside will recognize the new man only as Dr. Stanley High, founder of this week's new "Good Neighbor League." He has had a desk in Democratic national committee headquarters here, apparently to help in the coming campaign along the lines for which his experience has best fitted him, and he has seldom been seen around the White House.

But in addition, on the side, he is supposed to have contributed editorial assistance in preparation of the last two speech broadcasts. The youth movement material used in Baltimore and the economic wage-hour argument in New York apparently did not come from him, but he helped on the delivery style.

Note—Who lists Stanley Hoffman High as an editor, 41 years old, and recites his war aviation record, his connections with the Methodist mission to China (1919), his career as European correspondent for the Christian Science Monitor, Currents Events broadcaster for the National Broadcasting company and finally as religious broadcasting director for NBC.

PEP—Passionate predictions that the veterans would stow away bonus payments against a "rainy day" are negative by the rush for applications. The meek recalls army mess and army cries of "When do we eat?"

About 3,500,000 veterans are eligible. In less than two months after passage of the bonus bill more than 2,000,000 had filled out the blanks, held up their right hands before a notary public and been fingerprinted. There was acceleration following the official announcement that payments would be made on the basis of "First come, first served."

The increase was ominous for the treasury. More than 2,000,000 have made applications up to now.

Privately the statisticians say that all who applied before March 15—about 2,000,000—will receive their bonds and checks on their first payment day, which is June 15th. The others won't be far behind. Though FDR vetoed the act, he should benefit from it.

POLICE COURT JURY CONVICTS COSTA MESAN

WASHINGTON By Ray Tucker

REALISTIC—You can take with plenty of doses of salt story reports that business and industry and finance are biting off their noses to spite Franklin D. Roosevelt's classic profile.

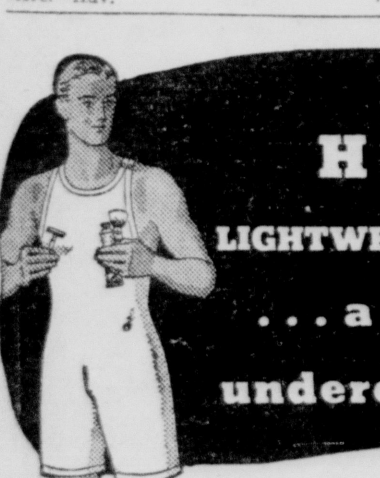

The dominant though unadvised attitude at the recent convention of the Chamber of Commerce was that private interests must make their plans and push ahead without regard for administrative policies. It was clearly expressed in the cocktail comment that "We've probably got to live with this man for five more years, so let's not make faces at him."

Though dubious about tomorrow, the membership seemed to feel that they should be as gay as FDR would permit. Moreover, they don't want to furnish him with an alibi.

Here are a few straws: Whirligig exclusively reported that Liberty Leaguer Raskob is buying farm land and gambling for a rise in value. Now it turns out that

JOHN RAMIREZ, LOIS MURRAY DON AND DONA

John Ramirez and Miss Lois Murray were yesterday elected Don and Dona of the Santa Ana Junior college fiesta to reign over the occasion on May 15.

The two defeated Nelson Kogler and Miss Audrey McDonald by a small margin. Bill Dolan and Miss Lewellyn Allen were eliminated in the primaries held last Wednesday.

Ramirez and Miss Murray will follow in the footsteps of Vernon Manser and Miss Agnes DeBusk, who were fiesta king and queen last year. According to tradition, the newly elected pair will preside over the festivities of the day leading the parade, and ruling over the diners of the occasion. According to Al Markel, president of the Associated Students, these two have been elected to highly honored and coveted positions.

Ramirez is a member of Los Gatos Service club and at present is president of the Engineers organization. Miss Murray is a Spinster member, and acting secretary of that organization. Markel stated that the votes both in the primary and finals were very close.

REFUSES CHANCE TO ESCAPE JAIL; BACK HERE FOR TRIAL

Rowell M. Marsan, 24, who refused to follow in the footsteps of seven Cortez, Colo., jail prisoners who pushed the roof off of the jail a week ago and walked away to freedom, waived preliminary hearing on charges of grand theft and issuing a fictitious check, when he appeared before Justice Kenneth Morrison here today. He signified he would plead guilty to the charges when he appears soon in superior court.

Marsan was returned from Colorado last evening by Police Chief Floyd W. Howard and Detective Charles W. Wolford, together with the $310 car, belonging to the A. L. Hart used car agency, which Marsan took with him when he left here April 10.

Members of the National Guard which are now active in a campaign to keep transients out of Colorado, informed us that seven men confined at the Cortez jail a week or so ago, pushed a hole through the jail roof and walked out." Chief Howard said, "When we spoke to Marsan of the incident, he said he, too, could have escaped but didn't care to."

The seven men, according to reports, looked at the two heavy padlocks on the front of the Cortez jail, and then at the roof. So they pushed up the roof and left.

Marsan, who traded the Hart car which he paid for with the allegedly fictitious check, at the I. P. Erickson agency in Gallup, N. M., said he left here because he was homesick for his native Maine. Marsan had a car from the Erickson agency, in his possession, when arrested, Colorado officers, who gave excellent cooperation in the arrest, said. Undersheriff R. R. Rogers, Gallup, and Sheriff Jesse H. Robison, Cortez, assisted greatly, Chief Howard said.

SAINT NINE NEEDS 'DOUBLE MIRACLE'

Tigers Buy Irving Burns Of Browns

By HARRY GRAYSON

Joe Jacobs, who expects to gross $1,500,000 with Max Schmeling and Joe Louis at the Yankee stadium in June, may have to tell the customers where their "ringside" seats are situated or pay an additional tax of 10 per cent.

"Ringside" seats that really were on the outskirts of Hackensack or in Westchester County were a custom in New York in the golden and giddy days, although the most flagrant case was in connection with the second Tunney-Dempsey duel in Chicago, where many who paid $40 to sit snugg up front found themselves in Washington.

Between Jack Dempsey and Joe Louis ringworms stormed the gates too infrequently for anybody to become overly excited about the blind "ringside," but now that the Brown Bomber again has made the country fight conscious, Alderman Thomas Curran, of New York City, considers it time to do something about an abuse condoned by boxing commissions.

Curran says that he was inspired by complaints that followed the Liger-Louis massacre last summer.

A New York City law introduced into the Board of Aldermen by Curran provides that promoters must pay a tax of 10 per cent on tickets for outdoor shows, or plainly describe on the ticket the location of the seat. Seats would be zoned in units of 50 feet up to 300 feet so that every purchaser would know approximately how many feet from the ring his seat was located.

"Obstruction" would have to be printed on tickets for seats behind posts.

If promoters accepted the regulations of the bill, they would be exempt from the tax. The city's only legal jurisdiction over boxing is to levy taxes against admissions.

SHOWMAN ENGEL QUILTS

It was with regret that Southern Association owners and followers learn that Joe Engel will withdraw as president of the Chattanooga club with the close of the current campaign.

Clark Griffith has decided that Engel, who pitched for him years ago, is much too valuable as a scout to spend time as a head farm hand.

Engel is, too, for Washington's one-man scouting system has furnished the Senators with remarkable players down through the years, and at an exceedingly low cost.

Engel uncovered both of Washington's boy managers, Bucky Harris and Joe Cronin. "My boy, Joe," as his dad referred to him during his playing days, struck a bargain in Cronin while quaffing lager in the Kansas City owner's brewery, after the current playing pilot of the Red Sox virtually had been booted from the Blues' park. Engel uncovered Ossie Bluege and Cecil Travis, among many others, and his latest find is young Buddy Lewis.

It is as a showman that Engel is best known, however. Unusual stunts enabled him to maintain interest and draw capacity crowds of 17,000 in Chattanooga, a city of 110,000, even when the Look-a-likes were out of the race.

FANS GOT SOMETHING

Engel signed a girl pitcher in 1930 and had her strike out Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig in an exhibition game. He engaged a circus and put it on as a sideshow at the opening of the season at Engel Stadium. Big shots of the city rode the elephants, camels, and horses in the opening day parade.

When Atlanta boasted of its Crackers being operated by 16 millionaires a few springs back, Engel proclaimed himself as "Chattanooga's only millionaire," and appeared in Atlanta's inaugural procession in a broken down old car.

Engel filed the Chattanooga grandstand with singing canaries, explaining that if he couldn't give the folks good baseball he at least could give them music. He had raffled off automobiles and had bank days.

Engel offered "Dizzy" Dean $15,000 for the privilege of fighting him. The Cardinal star ran out on an exhibition game in Chattanooga last fall, and Engel said that he wanted the money for the charity that was to have benefited.

It seems a pity to waste Engel's talents as a baseball Barnum, which will be the case when he makes his foxy foraging a full-time job. But Griffith wants the Harris, Cronin, Bluege, Travis, and Lewis to keep coming, and Breezy Joe apparently knows the chief source of supply.

GREENBERG OUT INDEFINITELY; ROGSETT SOLD

WASHINGTON, April 30.—(UP)—The Detroit Tigers today obtained Irving (Jack) Burns in a player-cash deal from the St. Louis Browns to replace First Baseman Hank Greenberg, who broke a wrist in yesterday's game.

The Tigers sent Elton Hogsett, veteran left-handed pitcher and an unannounced sum of cash to the Browns. Manager Mickey Cochrane announced. The player-exchange was effective immediately.

"We expect Burns will go to first base immediately," Cochrane said. "We do not plan any other changes in our lineup."

Greenberg's wrist was broken yesterday when Jake Powell of the Washington Nationals crashed into him at first base.

Cochrane said Greenberg would be kept out of the lineup for a month or six weeks.

Yankee Signing Of St. Mary's Star Protested

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—(UP)—Harry Wolter, Olympic Games baseball coach, today prepared to carry to Judge K. M. Landis, baseball "czar," a protest against the signing of Francis Kelleher, St. Mary's college third baseman, by the New York Yankees.

Wolter characterized the action of the major league team as an "outright steal," and said it was a violation of the majors' promise not to raid colleges for under-graduate players.

Kelleher, a sophomore, hit .519 in the college league and is ranked as the outstanding player of the Pacific Coast Inter-collegiate Baseball association.

It is reported he will join a Yankee "farm," receiving $350 a month and a $2500 bonus for signing.

Kelleher is scheduled to report to Joe Devine, Yankee scout, in Chicago in May.

Wolter's Protest

Wolter said that he had written a letter to the National Amateur Athletic Union, protesting the signing of Kelleher, and that he had also written a letter to the National Amateur Athletic Union, protesting the signing of Kelleher.

One of the country's best half millers is developing into a most promising Olympic prospect in the 400-meter hurdles. He's Jimmy Miller, former U. C. L. A. track captain, who is shown above in an unusual shot going over the timbers in Los Angeles.

KONDELIS GETS BIG CHANCE IN SAVOLDI MATCH

George Kondelis, undefeated in five consecutive matches at the Orange County Athletic club, and a man promoter John ("Doc") Contos, onetime manager of Jimmy London, considers better than the former world champion, today was signed to meet "Jumping Joe" Savoldi, former Notre Dame football star, in the three fall, one hour feature, Monday night.

Savoldi wanted to pick his own opponent for his first and probably his only appearance here, but finally agreed to meet Kondelis when Contos raised Savoldi's ante to 45 per cent instead of 37 1/2 per cent as originally agreed.

"George is so confident he can beat Savoldi that he gave up 5 per cent of his end and I added two-and-a-half per cent to make up the difference," said Contos.

All of which means that the Greek probably will be wrestling for nothing except glory. If he wins he stands a good chance of capitalizing on the victory and earning more money than ever before in his career.

Tickets for the appearance of Savoldi will be placed on sale throughout the county tomorrow, Contos announced.

WRESTLER'S LIBEL SUIT OPENS FRIDAY

COLUMBUS, O., April 30.—(UP)—The $1,000,000 libel suit brought by Everett Marshall, a claimant of the world's heavyweight wrestling championship, against the Saturday Evening Post and five "big time" promoters will open in federal court here Friday.

Attorneys for the Post obtained permission from Judge Meil G. Underwood to argue for clarification of Marshall's charges.

Defendants in the case other than the magazine are Jack Curran, New York; Paul Bowser, Boston; Tom Packs, St. Louis, Mo.; Ed White of Chicago and Joe ("Toots") Mondt of Los Angeles.

Marshall's suit was brought because of alleged disparaging remarks of his ability as a wrestler in an article in the Post.

Casey ("Buck") Kimball, all-navy heavyweight champion, is especially in demand. Kimball, who defeated here, figures to beat Lupe LeMon, the Fullerton caveman, or any other fighter Clinton can dig up, but a lot of the boys who figured to whip LeMon haven't been able to do it.

Ira ("Bud") McCarter, towering Orange heavy, is coming back to the pugilistic wars in a few weeks. Maybe he'll give LeMon an argument. McCarter has had the flu but is training again and looks good. He is a brother of Oliver.

"Bud" says he can "take it" now, a doctor having found a vertebrae out of place in his neck. This, the McCarter clan claims, tended to make "Bud's" chin a thing of glass.

BRUBAKER, LEVINSKY GO SET FOR MAY 22

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—(UP)—A second match between Phil Brubaker, California's outstanding contender for heavyweight boxing honors, and Kingfish Levinsky of Chicago was scheduled today for May 22 at Dreamland auditorium.

Brubaker already holds a 10-round decision over the former fish peddler, but by the terms of his agreement with Levinsky was obligated for a return match in the event he won.

PREDICT DERBY BETTING TOTAL OF $1,500,000

BY GEORGE KIRKSEY (United Press Staff Correspondent)

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 30.—With the glory and glamour of the Kentucky Derby, greatest of all American turf classics, only two days away, the outlook today was for the biggest crowd in history, the fastest spending throng since the depression, and a solid favorite to beat in the big race.

Col. Matt Winn, 74-year-old impresario of Churchill Downs, predicts that 75,000 persons will see the running of the Derby Saturday.

"It will be the biggest crowd we've ever had at the Derby," he said.

The betting will reach the $1,500,000 mark, in Col. Winn's estimation. Last year $1,018,472 was bet, the biggest sum since 1931.

Horsemen Pick Brevity

A probable field of 15 will go to the post for the mile-and-a-quarter test. Many of the owners will be merely shooting for the moon—the $40,000 purse being practically the same thing.

When Col. E. R. Bradley, who has won four Derbies and run one twice with his Idle Hour charges, virtually concedes the race to another horse, it's time to get your money down on that colt.

Col. Bradley says: "Brevity will win."

Other expert horsemen echo Bradley's opinion.

One of the smartest trainers on the turf who has a charge running in the Derby picks the finish: "Brevity, Bold Venture and The Fighter." He points out that Brevity has never run a bad race in his life, has the best jockey in the race, has the speed and staying qualities necessary to win a Derby, and is in fine condition.

Brevity's toughest rivals appear to be the Belair stud and Wheatley stable entry—Granville, Teufel and Merry Pete. The trio will run as an entry because all three are trained by "Sunny Jim" Fitzsimmons, who has won two of the last six derbies with Gallant Fox in 1930 and Omaha last year.

Indian Broom Feared

The most feared outsider is Indian Broom, owned by Major Austin C. Taylor of Vancouver, B. C. He bought the colt from the Brookmeade stable for $4,000 last year and had him running as a selling plate. Recently he cracked the world record for the mile and a furlong at Tanforan, running the distance in 1:47 3-5. He is the darkest kind of a dark horse. He might drop out of the clouds and win at long odds.

The probable starters:

Horse	Jockey	Probable odds
Brevity-Wright	...	7-5
Granville-Spaulding	...	3-5
Teufel-Litzenberger	...	3-5
Merry Pete-Kopel	...	3-1
The Fighter-Robertson	...	8-1

RESUME RACING AT CALIENTE, REPORT

MEXICO CITY, Mex., April 30.—(UP)—Legalized horse race gambling will be permitted soon at the Lower California resorts of Tijuana and Agua Caliente, a reliable government source informed the United Press today.

The twin resorts, once the haven of parched Americans from Southern California, virtually have been deserted by tourists since President Lazaro Cardenas banned all gambling in Northern Mexico states.

The double blow of prohibition repeal in the United States and no gambling along the border threw thousands of Mexican workers out of their jobs.

BOB PANKEY BREAKS LEAGUE SWIM MARK

Inaugurating the prep swimming season, Tustin high school natators defeated Laguna Beach, 37-24, in the Farmers' pool yesterday. The home team also captured the "Cee" meet, 36-10.

Bob Pankey, Orange league backstroke champion, bettered his own league mark of 1:19.4 in the 100 yard event, negotiating the distance in 1:14.2 without competition. While no other outstanding marks were recorded, Drennan Ahern, 440 yard champion last year, performed an "iron man" act by swimming the 50, 100 and 440 yard free styles, tying for first in the 50, and winning the latter two.

BRUBAKER, LEVINSKY GO SET FOR MAY 22

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—(UP)—A second match between Phil Brubaker, California's outstanding contender for heavyweight boxing honors, and Kingfish Levinsky of Chicago was scheduled today for May 22 at Dreamland auditorium.

Brubaker already holds a 10-round decision over the former fish peddler, but by the terms of his agreement with Levinsky was obligated for a return match in the event he won.

DRY-FLY ANGLER TO SCORE

Undulating Line Conquers Varied Stream Currents

CURVE, SNAKE CASTS REMEDY

BY JIMMY DONAHUE (NEA Service Sports Writer)

With the trout season opening tomorrow and warmer weather bringing more frequent and larger fly hatches, the dry-fly addict who has watched the worms, nymphs and wet-fly flingers take the fish is ready to have his inning.

There is no daintier art than proper fishing of the floating fly, although it is a question whether it is more productive than fishing the underwater wet variety. It is a fact, however, that unless a dry-fly angler is good, he is seldom as successful as the fellow who uses the sunken offering.

The reason for this is that the floater, if not handled properly, sets up an artificial drag, due to varying currents of water which work on the floating line and sunken leader as the fly travels downstream.

This drag creates a ripple on the water, not present in wet fly fishing, which six trout immediately take for something phony. Only on rare instances, when the fish are ravenous, will a trout take a fly creating a drag in low, clear water where the dry variety is most often used—or on long, still stretches.

Naturals make hardly a perceptible mark on the water as they alight, and none whatever as they ride the current downstream; yet the average dry-fly man expects a trout to take his offering as it swings after the pull of his line, creating a wake that tells the trout to mind his own business.

CURVE-CASTS REMEDY

There are two ways of curing drag in dry-fly fishing. One is to throw a curve cast, and the other is to throw a snake cast. The former throws a bend in the line upstream, giving the fast flow of water in the center a curve to work on before it straightens out the line and pulls on the fly. The lure, in the meantime, floats past its objective without drag and, if there is a trout there and he is in a taking mood, he goes into action. The snake-cast throws the line on the water in a series of undulations like a reptile in motion. The fast water works on these curves and straightens them out before drag is exerted on the fly.

To make the curve cast, execute a few false preliminary throws, working out line until the required distance is had, and allowing some line for the bend. On the final cast, check the rod when the forward motion is about three-fourths completed, so that the large loop in the line will not have the opportunity of unrolling or straightening.

If executed correctly, the line will fall with a belly upstream, and the fly will ride naturally until this curve is straightened out by fast water.

If standing on the right bank of a stream, and a belly upstream is desired, cast with the right hand as usual, but over the left shoulder. This will give you a curve just the opposite of that resulting from the orthodox cast.

LESS ON FAST WATER

The snake cast is made by retarding the shooting of the line. The usual false casts are made holding a few coils of line in the left hand. On the final cast, check the rod slightly, and shoot out the line, which will fall on the water in a series of curves. The leader usually remains straight in this cast, and the fly doesn't begin to drag until the floating line is straightened out.

Drag on fast, white-water streams isn't such an important item, as condition of the water compensates for any artificial action of the fly caused by pull of the line—and then, too, a dry fly angler often finds his floater accidentally has become a wet fly due to pull of rapids, and—horror of horrors!—has produced fish!

If you must fish dry, and favor a stream where varied currents are present throughout your trip, put in a day or so studying those currents. Then, by curve casting over them at your objectives you will eliminate drag and notice a considerable increase in your catches.

AZUCAR'S 124 'TOPS' FOR MEADOWS RACE

SAN MATEO, April 30.—(UP)—Turfmen today softened their predictions that Azucar will have an easy time of it in the $10,000-added Bay Meadows Handicap May 9 following announcement the "sugar horse" will carry high weight assignment, 124 pounds.

The Fred Alger sleepchaser will remain top choice for the blue-ribbon, one and one-sixteenth mile race, however, principally because Top Row appeared definitely out as a starter.

Looming as a truly dark horse was Special Agent, Major Austin Taylor's Indian Broom stablemate, who won the Tanforan inaugural hands down earlier in the spring.

Special Agent drew second weight, 117, and was considered Azucar's most serious competition for the Bay Meadows classic.

Truck officials at the same time announced weight assignments for the California Derby, a semi-windup affair scheduled for next Saturday with a $2000 added purse attraction. Plucky Jack will carry the heaviest load, 114 pounds, and Lloyd Pan, who won the $10,000 California championship last winter, will go to the post with 108.

Riddle Sees Brevity Easy First In Derby

LOUISVILLE, April 30.—Brevity appears a certainty to tow-rope the field in the Kentucky Derby. I look for the Joseph E. Widener star's main opposition to come from Bold Venture, Grand Slam, and possibly from the Milky Way farm entry of The Fighter and Sangreal.

Coldstream is another which may make a fight of it.

Some say that if some horse races Brevity eye to eye, the current pride of Elmdorff will be beaten, especially if some distance horse is behind. But name the sprinter that will do this trick, or the stayer which will come on!

Brevity has speed. He can carry weight and apparently will go the distance without shortening up. The Fighter and Sangreal may go a mile and a quarter, but their races haven't been smashing enough to warrant the assumption they can beat Brevity, even as a team.

The Fighter has speed. So has Sangreal. But if they get out with Tintagel and Brevity, will they have anything left for the finish? Brevity and Bold Venture can make? If they lay off the pace Brevity may be too far in front.

Forget Bradley and forget the sprinters.

Bold Venture will be coming from behind.

JAYSEE HOLDS ANNUAL SPORTS DANCE FRIDAY

Santa Ana Junior college students will attend their annual Spring sports dance tomorrow night in the San Clemente country club, under the leadership of Los Gauchos, men's service club of the school.

The dance will begin at 8:30 p. m. with music furnished by Frank Neiman's orchestra from Laguna Beach. The motif for the evening will be carried out in connection with May Day. The dance is sponsored each year by Los Gauchos. Last year the affair was held in the Belmont Shores Surf and Sand club under the direction of Kenneth Vandruft, past president.

This year, general chairman of the affair is Walt Bandick, president for this semester. The committees are headed by Fred Pinkson and Jack Runkle. Bandick predicts the attendance of approximately 166 couples.

WIRE SERVICE IMPROVED

LAGUNA BEACH, April 30.—Direct telegraphic money transfer service is to be made available to Laguna Beach immediately according to announcement made at Tuesday's luncheon of the chamber of commerce. For some time, efforts have been afoot to provide more adequate telegraph facilities, including money transmission.

Recently, direct telegraphic connection was installed, obviating the necessity for sending messages through Santa Ana with additional tolls, and the new service gives the beach town completed wire facilities.

Population of the Netherlands East Indies has increased about 23 per cent since 1920. It is now more than 1,000,000.

REV. TIBBETS LAUDS GLY-CAS AS THE ONE MEDICINE OF MERIT

Local Minister Now Enjoys Good Health After 50 Years' Suffering; Indigestion, Rheumatism Easily Conquered by New Herbal Remedy.

Taking poisonous impurities from the system in a way that is positive, yet harmless, with an action on the intestinal tract declared to be entirely different from all other medicines, this new Gly-Cas discovery is giving complete relief in so many old and agonizing cases of rheumatism, neuritis, stomach, liver, kidney, bowel and blood troubles that it is truly astonishing.

REV. A. T. TIBBETS

Read what Rev. A. T. Tibbets, of 2309 West Sixth Street, Santa Ana, age 75, a well known local retired Baptist minister, who has lived here for the past fourteen years, said recently to the Gly-Cas Man at the McCoy Drug Co., 108 West Fourth Street, this city:

"Gly-Cas is one medicine that does not have any competition for the ordinary medicines of today cannot be compared with its remarkable action," said Rev. Tibbets. "For fifteen years I had been in failing health. Most of my life indigestion and bloating attacks would come on me after eating making me so miserable that my meals held little enjoyment afterwards. But what caused my dreadful suffering was the rheumatism which settled in my limbs, back and shoulders crippling me until I could hardly get about. I became dreadfully nervous, and in spite of all I tried I could not find anything to help me. It was so discouraging and I did not know what to do next when I happened onto a friend of mine who had been in very bad condition—but now in apparent good health—and he persuaded me to give this new Gly-Cas a trial as he had done and I too found it wonderful.

"I feel it my duty to let all suffering humanity know of this valuable Gly-Cas—it has no equal," continued Rev. Tibbets. "This new herbal remedy took right hold of my stubborn case, cleansed my entire system of its poisons and I have not felt as well in years as I do now. I relish every bite I eat, nerves are quieted, sleep good and seldom have any pain at all. That dreadful suffering has been relieved that I thought impossible, my head is cleared and I feel as if this new Gly-Cas has actually given me a new lease on life. There can be no doubt now of Gly-Cas' merit."

The Gly-Cas Man is daily meeting crowds of local people at the McCoy Drug Co., 108 West Fourth Street, Santa Ana, where he is introducing and explaining the action of this valuable new medical discovery.

Gly-Cas, $1 box; 6 boxes, $5, by mail, plus 3c a box tax. Cash must accompany order.

PAUL NEFF NAMED DISTRICT AGENT BY INSURANCE CO.

Appointment of Paul W. Neff, of Santa Ana, as District Agent in charge of Orange County for the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company, was announced today by W. K. Murphy, of Los Angeles, general agent for Southern California.

Associated with Neff in the district headquarters, located on the second floor of the Moore building, Fourth and Broadway, are Harry A. Cline, W. B. Moore, Mayor Fred C. Rowland, B. H. Fiebler, Jack Gould, Homer Eddy, Jacob M. Davis, and Mrs. E. A. Monroe.

Neff, who formerly was a member of The Register editorial staff, takes active charge of the Northwestern Mutual office May 1. GARDEN GROVE, April 30.—Members of the One O'Clock club entertained their husbands with a pot luck dinner this week at the home of Mrs. Joe Bishop in Long Beach.

Games were played during the evening, with first prize going to Clarence Crist and second prize to Charlie Columbia. The occasion marking the birthday anniversaries of Ben Drake and Joe Bishop, they were presented with gifts.

At the close of the evening refreshments of strawberry shortcake and whipped cream were served to the following: Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Crist, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Columbia, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Slate and son, Ronald, and Mrs. Floyd Neff, of Garden Grove; Mr. and Mrs. Ben Drake, Mrs. Winifred Nottingham and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bishop of Long Beach.

NELS EDWARDS IN STATEMENT AS DELEGATE

As a member of the Landon delegation on the May 5th primary ballot, I feel it appropriate to make a statement to the Republican voters of Orange county concerning the Landon ticket.

The Landon delegation consists of prominent Republicans of the state as does the Warren delegation. Both delegations are asking the Republican voters for approval as representatives of California Republicans at the national convention.

There is this difference between the delegations. The Landon delegation declares that it will support Landon so long as he desires it. The Warren delegation gives no assurance whatever of whom it will support. It is nominally instructed for Earl Warren.

The California primary is intended to give the voters an opportunity to express their preferences for presidential candidates. The primary was open to any candidate who cared to file a ticket of delegates. Mr. Landon was the only candidate who permitted a ticket to be filed. He was willing to submit his name to the voters. The Landon ticket gives those who favor Landon an opportunity to register their preference. It follows entirely the letter and the spirit of the primary law.

It will be free to advocate or support any platform before the convention.

I do not see that the Warren ticket gives the voter an opportunity to express any preference for a presidential candidate. It simply asks the voter to entrust his judgment to the hands of the Warren delegates. That is certainly not the spirit of the primary law, which was adopted by the people of California to prevent machine control of party politics.

I am a member of the Landon delegation because I believe that Governor Landon is the best man to lead the Republican party. If I go to the national convention, I will go with instructions from the Republicans of California to vote in that convention for Landon. I will have instructions from no one but the voters themselves and I will follow their instructions to the letter.

The Landon ticket is asking the support of those Republicans who favor Governor Landon and of those who regard Landon as a second choice. The latter have no opportunity of expressing a first choice. As a Landon delegate, I would consider it an honor to represent Orange county Republicans at the national convention.

England and Wales are estimated to have a total population of approximately 40,467,000.

STATEMENT TO REPUBLICANS ISSUED TODAY

Appointment of Dr. John D. Ball as campaign manager for Orange county for the Warren uninstructed delegation to the Republican National convention was announced today simultaneously with a statement from Dr. Ball. His statement follows:

"I have been appointed by state headquarters to act as campaign manager for Orange county for the Warren ticket, known also as the uninstructed ticket. I am very glad to accept this position for the reason that I believe the issue is important.

"In accepting it, I want to make a plain statement to the Republican voters of the county, and to appeal to them to go to the polls on May 5 and vote for the Warren ticket.

"Republicans who go to the polls on that day have the choice of two tickets. One of them is the Landon ticket, sponsored in California by interests too well known to need comment from me. The other is the Warren ticket, so designated on the ballot.

"This Warren ticket, however, is not pledged to Mr. Warren, and will not be pledged to him. Mr. Warren is not a candidate for president of the United States, and will not be a candidate.

"Under the California presidential primary law it is necessary for each set of delegates to appear as sponsors for some person, else it would be necessary for each voter to have to put his rubber stamp after the name of each delegate. Here in California, there were scores of Republican leaders and Republican organizations who were convinced that it was wise to send to the national convention a set of delegates who could and would go there with the sole and sincere purpose of deliberating freely with other Republicans with a view to writing the best possible platform and selecting the best and strongest candidates for president and vice-president. As a result of that general feeling and need, it was decided to get together a delegation of strong, outstanding Republicans of California and try to send them to the national convention, there to make an unfettered and unpledged effort for the best interests of the party.

"Because of the peculiar reading of the California law and because of the red tape in that law, it was advisable that voters be given an opportunity to vote by placing just one stamp for this free and uninstructed delegation. Therefore it was decided to allow this delegation to be headed on the ballot by Mr. Warren, who is chairman of the State Republican Central committee. For that reason, and for that reason alone, does Mr. Warren's name appear.

"My willingness to aid this campaign for the Warren uninstructed delegation is based on my positive belief that it is to the best interest of the party for the delegation to go uninstructed. This ticket is one for which any Republican can vote whether he be a Landon adherent, a Borah adherent, a Knox adherent or a Vandenberg adherent. This delegation is made up of strong and dependable leaders, and we can well leave the battle to them. We do not want men representing us whose hands will be tied tight, whose votes at Cleveland will be in the hands of just one man.

"The whole issue, then, is: Shall we send a set of delegates whose hands are tied, or shall we send an uninstructed, unfettered set of free delegates? I am for the Warren uninstructed delegates."

"I feel it my duty to let all suffering humanity know of this valuable Gly-Cas—it has no equal," continued Rev. Tibbets. "This new herbal remedy took right hold of my stubborn case, cleansed my entire system of its poisons and I have not felt as well in years as I do now. I relish every bite I eat, nerves are quieted, sleep good and seldom have any pain at all. That dreadful suffering has been relieved that I thought impossible, my head is cleared and I feel as if this new Gly-Cas has actually given me a new lease on life. There can be no doubt now of Gly-Cas' merit."

The Gly-Cas Man is daily meeting crowds of local people at the McCoy Drug Co., 108 West Fourth Street, Santa Ana, where he is introducing and explaining the action of this valuable new medical discovery.

Southland Tournament Of Plays Opens Tonight

ONE ACT PLAYS FEATURED FOR THREE NIGHTS

Weeks of preparation on the part of Santa Ana Community Players' association, and play rehearsals among similar amateur players' groups of Southern California, will reach their climax with the annual tournament of One Act Plays to open tonight at 8 o'clock in the Ebell auditorium, and continue Friday and Saturday nights.

Ten years ago this month, when the idea of such a tournament was first put into effect by the host association, it immediately met with the approval and co-operation of various little theater groups. As a result it has become an annual event, and has become famous throughout the state.

While interest has been as keen this year as in any spring of the tournament's history, there have been several disappointing happenings. Huntington Beach Community Players, who were to present George Kelly's comedy, "The Weak Spot," on tonight's opening program, had to withdraw their entry at the last moment. But with that true spirit of co-operation that seems to distinguish the yearly event, they are sending a courtesy play to complete the bill.

Courtesy Play

This will be Percival Wilde's "The Finger of God" with a high school cast which has been preparing the play for entry in the High School One-Act tournament in Pasadena. Edna Dean Condon is directing the players who are Marlon Reeves as "The Girl," James Gilmore as "Mr. Strickland" and Arl McCormick as "Benson."

San Bernardino's "Modern Mummies" who have given such excellent performances in past years, will appear on tonight's program. Robert McLaughlin's "Demi-Tasse" will be the play with Helen Barandon, Virginia Keller, Cecil Wilson and Margaret Elsenhart in the cast directed by Eloise Harvey.

Santa Ana association's part in the opening program will include not only the formal welcome from the president, Harry L. Hanson, music by the Carillon Trio, songs by Mary Batten Steffenson and refreshments at an after-theater party, but also a one-act play. This will not be entered in the competition, but will be merely to fill a place left vacant by one of the last minute withdrawals.

"Red Bubble," Miss Lella Watson's prize-winning play in the recent original one-act playwriting tournaments, will be presented by a cast composed of Arthur Coleman, Agnes Brady, James Doyle, J. Parley Smith, Gertrude Horn, Holmes Bishop, Chauncey Morgan, Jean Kay, Julia Ann Hyde, Mary Batten Steffenson, James Backman and Joe Yocum, directed by "Ladies" Simpson Shafer.

Host Group Aides

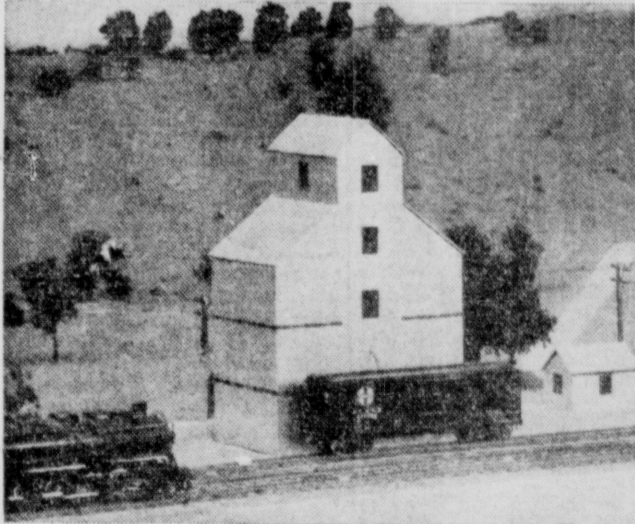

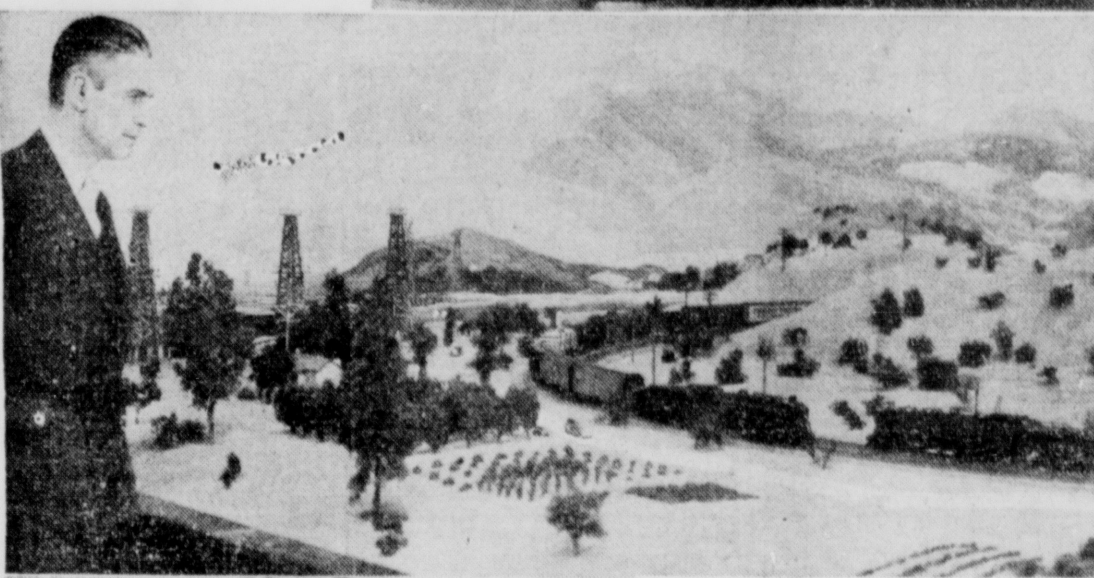

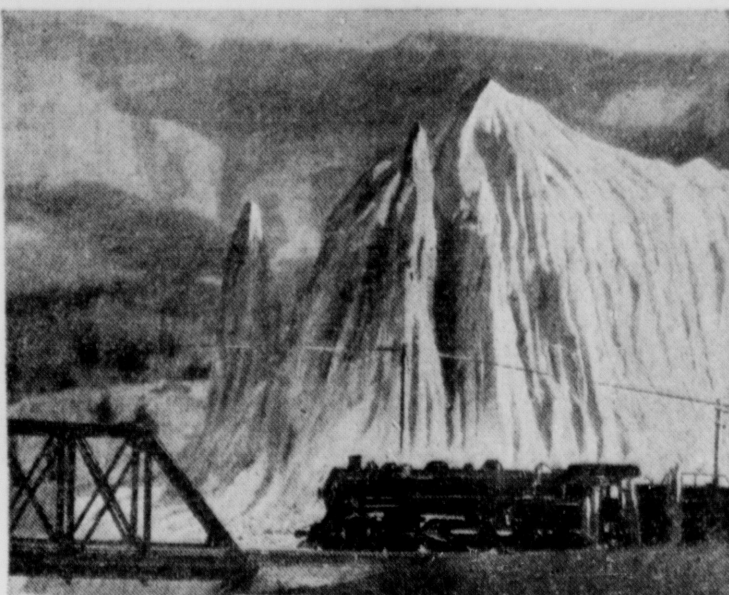

Different groups from the host association will be at the information desk in the clubhouse foyer each evening. Tonight Mrs. Alan Revell, Mrs. M. Burr Wellington and Mr. and Mrs. J. Parley Smith will be in charge. Ushers for the three nights will include Messrs. Frank Lansdown, Warren Fletcher, John Colwell and Arthur Collins.

Dinner at 6 o'clock in James' cafe will compliment the competing casts, and guests will include many members of the host group. Following the evening's program will be the usual informal reception with coffee and sandwiches in the clubhouse peacock room. Mrs. M. Burr Wellington and Mrs. Terry Stephenson will pour coffee tonight, and serving will be accomplished by Miss Lella Watson, Miss Eleanor Crookshank, Mesdames J. W. Neal, Art Watkins, William Switzer, Merle Downing, Clinton Austin, Harold Myers and E. C. Sampson. High scores were made by Mrs. Watkins and Mr. Sampson.

While 1936 may be a break for the girls, it's just another leap year for pedestrians.

THRILLS IN SANTA FE EXHIBIT

Trains, gliding over miniature Railroad, entertain thousands of visitors at San Diego Fair, as Company plans a similar attraction for the Texas Centennial Exposition opening at Dallas in June Showing how the Santa Fe virtually "moved" its entire railroad to the San Diego Exposition. Built by Minton Cronkhite, retired railroad engineer, the exhibit consists of four electrically operated trains, 400 feet of track, bridges, tunnels, station buildings and other structures, all drawn to exact Santa Fe scale and design. Even the scenery is typical of that found along the Santa Fe System Lines. In the center, Cronkhite is watching two trains as they are about to pass each other "somewhere in California." Above, the Chief approaches the Colorado River bridge, and at the lower left is a grain elevator and Santa Fe box car "somewhere in the middlewest." The exhibit at Dallas will be somewhat larger, and will feature not only the Santa Fe in Texas, but also Texas scenery and some of the state's principal industries, such as cotton gins and lumber mills.

FORESTRY BOARD OUTLINES UNIFORM PLANTING PLAN

Following is the second article in a series prepared by the Santa Ana Forestry Board and released for publication. This article deals with uniform planting for city beautification.

The article follows:

"In the first of this series the history of the forestry board, its personnel, and growth were briefly outlined. Some of its accomplishments were mentioned as well as the planting program for the current year.

"This work is not, however, carried on without difficulty. Opposition is met with and from sources that would surprise the reader. Yes, some of our citizens otherwise very civic minded, in fact some leaders in civic movements are slow to cooperate when they feel that the shoe pinches a little in regard to uniform pathway planting.

"Ah yes they say, 'beautify the city, but I shall have whatever I please in front of my own house.' This, of course, if acceded to, would defeat the very essence of uniform planting. No one, certainly, would deny the beautiful effect of an avenue of trees of the same type, regularly spaced and trimmed, and of even size and head. We have had examples in Santa Ana, a few of which are North Broadway, Victoria Drive, Riverside Drive and Fairmont Drive.

"One current problem facing the board is the planting of South Main street made necessary by the widening project now under way. Before any type is determined upon, soil tests must be made, authorities consulted as to the success of various types under similar conditions. Then the zoning, both present and probable future, must be considered. Main street offers an excellent example of a street now partly business and rapidly becoming more so; a main thoroughfare which can impress or detract from the mental picture of our entire city obtained by our visitors, many of whom are prospective home-owners. The tree selected must be adapted to the soil; while giving shade it must not deprive present or future businesses of their rightful advertising possibilities by low hanging foliage and its trunk formation at maturity; and it must fit the space without interfering with traffic, sidewalk, or curb.

"The above routine is followed in prescribing a tree for each street in the city, and at no direct cost of the planting to the property owner. What then of the tree planted by an individual; a tree type other than prescribed? It is in violation of an ordinance to be sure, and as such calls for prosecution by proper authority. The purpose of the ordinance is not to create a hardship but rather to protect even as zoning and building restrictions protect the home builder from the possibility of future construction of business places or of other houses that might seriously detract from the beauty and lower the value of the property in point.

"The street planted prior to the formation of the forestry board is more of a problem. Here we have trees of different types and ages, in some instances even approaching an obstruction to traffic. Hardly a meeting passes without requests for the removal of trees, some excellent specimens, and replanting of some other type. If all were granted it would be merely a matter of time until our city would be denuded or else cluttered into a hodge-podge. For this reason the board is endeavoring to reach property owners, in some instances through personal contact, to interest them in the advantages of uniform planting, and to learn the pleasure of the majority on a street as to type desired. In this way it is hoped that our objective may be reached without waiting for the foreign type to die or be blown down.

"The board would welcome inquiries from residents as to their own streets, and communications on the subject of uniform planting."

The program includes a Harry Langdon comedy, "I Don't Remember," a news reel; a cartoon and a grounds, admission to the fair, admission to a concession, 50 cents in cash and the opportunity to see hundreds of free attractions and new exhibits.

BAND CONCERT TO OPEN MUSIC WEEK PROGRAM

Santa Anans who made the trip to San Diego last year as guests of The Register, remember the glorious time they had, and many of them are busy qualifying for a second outing. In securing the new subscriptions that are "Open Season" to a day of fun and education, it is not necessary to collect any money—just turn the orders in to the circulation manager and receive the tickets.

GARDEN GROVE, April 30. — Plans for a potluck dinner and afternoon and evening of sewing at the home of Mrs. Lillian Lovett on May 7 and initiation of new members at the May 12 meeting of W. R. C. were made at the meeting of the local corps held in Legion hall Tuesday evening.

It was reported that since the last meeting, 21 social and 29 sick calls had been made, 37 bouquets and eight funeral prayers distributed and other relief given amounting to $14.80.

After an informal evening of cards the hostess committee, composed of Mrs. Mary Clark and Mrs. Mignon Waters, served refreshments. David King, of Orange, was a visitor.

Surprise Gift Shower Given by Friends Of Bride-elect

Miss Rose Rogers, who on May 15 will become the bride of the Rev. Ray Cook, pastor of South-ern Methodist church of Phoenix, Ariz., found herself the surprised honoree this week at a party when she supposed herself only entertaining at a missionary society meeting.

Mary Martha Missionary group of Spurgeon M. E. church, South, met with Miss Rogers in her home on Talbert boulevard, and the usual procedure of such a session was followed with Miss Violet Rogers presenting the Scripture talk in advance of an evening of sewing.

While Miss Rogers was absent from the room preparing to serve sandwiches with coffee or hot chocolate, guests arranged a pleasant surprise for her return, by having their tissue-wrapped gifts in the middle of the floor. Naturally these met her gaze the minute she re-entered the room, and a merry interlude followed when she opened the packages and passed their contents for the survey of her guests.

Circle members planning this friendly affair for Miss Rogers were the Misses Hazel Schwartz, Margaret and Mildred Goodwin, Emma and Leona Baxter, Janice and Audrey Yetman, Ruth and Martha Heemstra, Dorothy Olson, Alice Nelson, Alice Upson, Marjorie Lewis, Virginia Anthony, Margaret and Helen Fine, Violet Rogers, with Mrs. LeRoy Levens, Mrs. Pearl McMillan, Mrs. C. E. Tumber, Mrs. C. M. Aker, Mrs. E. A. Schwartz, Mrs. Goodwin, Mrs. Harwood and Mrs. Rogers.

Homophenous Members Join for Luncheon In Country Home

Pleasant anticipations of Homophenous club members of their monthly covered dish luncheon were fully realized this week when they motored to the country home of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Huffine on Palisades road.

Mrs. Huffine and her daughter, Mrs. Elsie Huffine, had made their home bright with flowers, which were especially lovely as decorations for the long table placed on the porch for the serving of the menu.

Bridge and other games were played during the afternoon. In the party in addition to the mother and daughter hostesses, were Miss Ruth Bartlett, Mesdames George Nash, G. McDonald, R. S. Thompson and her mother, Mrs. M. E. Borland, Mesdames John Wehrly, Hugh Osborne, Charles Williams, Ross Huber, Harvey Groover, C. H. Hossfeld, Alice Scheel, E. H. Lamb, Joe Lowell, Lula Timmons, Santa Ana; Mrs. Geneva Schaffert, Mrs. Jennifer, Orange; Mrs. E. E. Bruns, Mrs. George King, Mrs. C. E. Cook, Anaheim; Mrs. Maude Bauman and Mrs. Chris Ashy, Costa Mesa.

Native Daughters

Native Daughters of the Golden West met Monday evening in Knights of Columbus hall where Mrs. Ray Ballard was initiated into membership. Mrs. Muriel Bray and Mrs. Margaret Mize were chosen delegates to attend Grand Parlor at Oakland in June with Mrs. Mae West and Mrs. Mattie Edwards as alternates.

Strawberry shortcake and coffee were served from long tables decorated with quantities of roses. As a happy climax to the evening Mrs. Myrtle Ellis was presented a beautifully decorated birthday cake and an array of gifts to be used on the eastern trip she expects to take in a few weeks.

Mrs. Carstensen Has Pleasant Evening For Bridge Club

Entertaining members of her bridge club of which there are an even dozen, Mrs. Allan Carstensen was hostess Tuesday evening in her home, 614 South Parton street.

When scores were tabulated on the modernistic tables, Miss Mary Jean DuBois received a pair of hand carved book ends of Mexican design for high score. To Miss Frances Parks, scoring second high, went a gay flower corsage, so currently popular as a costume detail.

Refreshments of ice cream and a frozen ladyfinger dessert were served with candies, nuts, coffee and tea.

Present in addition to the hostess, Mrs. Carstensen were the Misses Margaret Guard, Frances Parks, Marjorie Berkner, Florence Turner, Mary Jean DuBois, Helen Demetriou, Dorothy Dunbar, and Mesdames Clyde Higgins, Paul Reynolds, Lee Hasenjaeger and Carleton Smith.

Wedding Party Stages Rehearsal Following Formal Dinner

In plans for the wedding tonight in Episcopal Church of the Messiah of Miss Marion Stroup and Harold V. Laegre, Miss Stroup's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lady Schaffer, last night complimented the young couple with a dinner party in advance of the bridal rehearsal in the church.

They made their home at 421 West Seventeenth street, very charming with flowers in bright colors, and the table where dinner was served was covered with a fragrant mass of sweet peas in pastel colors.

Places were indicated for the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Schaffer, the young couple, Miss Stroup and Mr. Laegre, and their attendants, Miss Margaret Young, Miss Billie Jeffrey, Mr. and Mrs. Gale Toland and Messrs. Irving Grey, Bill Rosenbaum and Clarence Wright.

Following the main course of the dinner menu, the party repaired to the church for rehearsal and later returned to the Schaffer home for the dessert course of ices, cake and coffee. It was during this interval that Miss Stroup presented to her maid of honor, Miss Young, and her attendants, Mrs. Toland and Miss Jeffrey, pretty gold compacts each engraved with the monogram of its new owner, Mr. Laegre at the same time presented his best man, Mr. Grey, and his two ushers with monogrammed leather bill-folds.

Magnolia R. N. A. Sends Fine Representation To Conclave

Those who can picture to themselves, sixteen charming young girls, gowning alike in ashes of roses net over pale pink satin, carrying formal colonial bouquets scattering flashlights to twinkle like fireflies among the flowers, may sense the pride which Magnolia camp R. N. A. feels today in its drill team.

This group will be among the many that will compete tonight at the Southern District convocation of Royal Neighbors to be held in Pasadena Civic auditorium, and Magnolia camp officers were in Pasadena this afternoon to take part in the opening session.

Those comprising the drill team, who will be allotted ten minutes of floor work tonight, are the Misses Gladys Harmon, Frances Miller, Dawn Cornett, Ladecane Laub, Dorothy Duncan, Lavon Laub, Ruth Anderson, Opal Manderscheid, Corrine Cornett, Ethel Gross, Nell Laub, Laura Hensley, Mervie Manderscheid, Lucille Stoker, Ruth Dunlap and Mrs. Minnie Nelson.

To officers of Magnolia camp, has been delegated the honor of presenting the opening floor work of the convention, and each will fill the chair she occupies in the Santa Ana camp. They will be Mesdames Herbert Birt, orator; E. Farmer, past orator; John Smith, vice orator; Harry Fink, chancellor; Marvin Crawford, recorder; Walter Dunlap, recorder; Harry Gross, musician; John Buckwalter, flag bearer; W. N. Erick, outer sentinel; Harold Tabb, inner sentinel; W. M. Harmon, marshal, and Miss Fern Farmer, assistant marshal.

In addition there will be the Graces, the Miss Gertrude Gross, Lillian Wennstrom, Mary Gross, Ethel Gross and Ruth Dunlap.

Recent Meeting
Plans for participation in the convocation were completed at the latest meeting of the camp in Modern Woodman hall, where members assembled for a covered dish dinner in advance of the evening's social program.

Harry Fink as program chairman, had insisted the aid of various talented young people in presenting the entertainment features, which included readings by Beth Mitchell, and Lila May Fink; piano numbers by Bill Hammond; tap dance by Nicholas Erick; songs by the DeMolay quartet accompanied by Lorene Croddy Graves, and songs and dances by the talented little Redmond sisters with their mother as accompanist. Herbert Birt of the camp membership closed the program with a humorous reading, after which dancing and cards were enjoyed.

Magnolia camp is celebrating its thirty-first anniversary this month, for it received its charter in April, 1905. No special observance is being given the anniversary, however, beyond the social program at this week's meeting and the participation in the district convocation.

Church Societies

Baptist Group
Final plans for entertaining the State World Wide guild rally which is to open here Friday continuing through Sunday occupied a major part of the business meeting of the executive board of the First Baptist Women's society, which met Wednesday for luncheon and afternoon meeting in the home of Mrs. P. The house was prettily decorated with Scotch broom and mixed bouquets from the home gardens. Assisting Mrs. Norton in serving a delicious lunch were Mrs. C. W. Nash, Mrs. H. E. Owings and Mrs. E. W. Ashland.

Bridge Party Hostess Achieves Intimacy In Entertaining

A friendly wish on the part of Mrs. Earl M. Elson of Orange, to introduce two comparatively recent arrivals in the community, Mrs. Clarence Holmes and her sister, Miss Evelyn Schleber, of this city, to some of her own congenial friends, inspired a dessert bridge party of attractive features at which Mrs. Elson was hostess yesterday afternoon in her home, 982 East Chapman avenue.

An appropriate May Day theme was expressed in flower decorations of the home, and was especially well applied to the small tables where dessert course was enjoyed preceding bridge play. Mrs. Cassius Paul, who was prevented by the illness of one of her small children from being present at the party, nevertheless was present in spirit. For she had fashioned the graceful small May baskets of violets, Cecile Brunner buds and buttercups which centered the tables.

The motif appeared in place-tally cards, and even in the dessert course served, for ice cream molds were in flower basket form and delicate pastel colors. And the colors were apparent again in ribbons and wrappings of the attractive guest prizes for Mrs. Holmes and Miss Schleber, and bridge prizes awarded Mrs. William Wollaston and Mrs. Henry S. Williams for first and second high scores.

Mrs. Elson's hospitality was shared by Mrs. Holmes, Miss Schleber and Mesdames Harry LeBar, William H. Wright, Henry S. Williams, Aubrey Gilman, Jack Taylor, William Wollaston, Richard Garstang and Harry G. Huffman, Santa Ana; Mrs. Christine Lambert and Mrs. George Peterson Jr. of Orange.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Schick, 517 East Seventeenth street, have been entertaining as house guests Mrs. Schick's sister and brother-in-law, and Mrs. H. M. Cole, Ann Arber, Mich. Mr. and Mrs. Cole have done much traveling since Mr. Cole's retirement from teaching at the Ann Arbor university this year. They have many friends in Santa Ana and have been incentive for a number of dinner parties.

Mrs. Annie Arnold and Mrs. Theresa Ryan returned yesterday to Mrs. Arnold's home, 405 South Birch street, from a two days' visit with friends in Los Angeles. They had the privilege on Tuesday night, of hearing the famous Philadelphia orchestra under the baton of Leopold Stokowski, in the Pan-Pacific auditorium.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Taylor, 2841 Bonnie Bure, have returned from Tulsa where they were guests of Mr. Taylor's parents.

Mrs. H. P. Larsen plans to return to her home in Hollywood Saturday after an extended visit with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Nelson, 927 South Ross street.

Contract Club Spends Pleasant Afternoon In Collier Home

Members of Mrs. E. B. Collier's contract bridge club enjoyed the friendly hospitality of her home, 117 East Washington avenue, yesterday afternoon.

At the conclusion of play alfresco cake, ice cream and coffee were served from small tables centered with pink roses.

Mrs. Collier included a little group of guests who did not enter into bridge games but devoted the afternoon to chat and needlework. They were Mrs. Charles Jeffrey, Mrs. C. O. Norton and Mrs. A. F. LeGaye. In the bridge group were Mesdames L. M. Banks, James P. Murphy, P. B. Gillespie, P. C. Dietler, Carl Klatt, V. A. Rossiter, J. D. Spennetta and James C. Crawford, of this city and Orange.

They substituted for Mrs. Roy Hall, Mrs. A. G. Flagg and Mrs. Irwin F. Landis.

ANNUAL REPORTS PRESENTED AT COUNTY CLUB CONVENTION; COLLEGE DEAN GIVES ADDRESS

ORANGE, April 30.—Presentation of annual reports and an address by Dr. Arthur Coons, dean of men at Occidental college and professor of economics featured the annual convention of the Orange County Federation of Women's clubs at the Orange Woman's clubhouse yesterday. Dr. Coons spoke on "The Economic Outlook and the Way Out for America."

"No candidate," Dr. Coons said, "will be elected President of the United States unless he be progressive." He stated that capitalism should not be discarded until it has been given a chance and that it has not had a fair chance for the last 15 years.

"Something will have to be done to bring about increased national production," Dr. Coons said, "as the United States is at present producing but half of its capacity." He pointed out that the declining percentage of wage earners also has to be remedied, and that monopolies are steadily gaining control.

The speaker emphasized the fact that one of these serious problems could not be adjusted and all of the others neglected. They must balance or it will lead to the downfall of one or all of them, he said.

Preceding the address by Dr. Coons, luncheon was served by the Orange Women's club and the Federal Music Project Symphony orchestra, under the direction of Leon Eckles, presented a program which included the selections, "The Last Spring," by Bach and a march from "Tannhauser." THE TINYMITES

The Tiny Mites were filled with glee, and Doty said, "As you can see, we finally have found some gold. There's lots inside that hill. I'm sure that we can bring it out. The Tiny boys will help, no doubt." Wee Coppy, who was standing near, exclaimed, "You bet we will."

"We'll gladly work the living day, because we have a lot to pay the old prospector back for. He has been real kind to us."

"I'm positive that everyone will think the task a lot of fun," kept Doty. If he has to work, he'll like it.

STORIES IN STAMPS

By I. S. Klein

TOMB TO A POET KING

STATELY Mount Lovchen overlooks the city of Cetinje, once the capital of Montenegro, a pre-war state that now is part of Yugoslavia. From the windows of his palace, Peter II used to look out upon this mountain and dream lofty dreams that he described in lyric poems and poetry. He became one of the greatest poets of the Balkans, and now his body lies in an impressive white marble mausoleum on the side of the mountain that inspired him.

Peter II ruled Montenegro from 1880 to 1918, and in that time practiced the ideals that he dreamed as a poet. Remarkable as a warrior and statesman, he was more renowned, however, for his reforms. He instituted a senate, abolished the political office of civil governor, and did much to educate and civilize his people.

The stamp shown below was issued in 1896, on the second centennial of the beginning of the Petrovitch dynasty. On it is a picture of King Peter's mausoleum.

Oil Well Planned On H. B. High School Property

BIDS ON NEW LEASE SOUGHT BY TRUSTEES

HUNTINGTON BEACH, April 30.—Trustees of the Huntington Beach Union High school district will lease a portion of the high school grounds for all drilling purposes, it was revealed today. The lease will be given to the highest bidder and one who can qualify by posting a $20,000 bond to guarantee the commencement of drilling operations within 90 days after the lease is signed.

The lease will be signed within 30 days from today, it being necessary to advertise the proposal for 30 days. The board has assurance from Fred Fairfield, head of the Oil Tool Supply company of Long Beach, president of the Lucky Strike Oil company and several other oil companies with wells here and in Long Beach, that he will take the lease on the school grounds. It was at the request of Fairfield that the board decided to offer the portion of the grounds for lease.

In a former lease on the high school ground held by the old California Petroleum company, a well was brought in which netted the school district a profit of $300,000. It was this sum which was used to help pay the cost of the $500,000 high school plant which serves a large section of this part of Orange county. The districts which will benefit if oil is discovered as a part of the high school district are Talbert, Springdale, Oceanview, Westminster, Seal Beach and Huntington Beach.

The tract to be leased comprises about four or five acres. There is a 10-acre tract used as an athletic field and buildings and it was pointed out that a number of wells could be whistled to this section in the event a first well proves a commercial producer.

The members of the school board are J. O. Pyke, W. H. Warner, Fred Grable, Art Wilson and Emil Kettler.

FOLLY and FAREWELL

BEGIN HERE TODAY

LINDA HARMON, 20 years old, pretty and socially prominent in the little town of Newtown, is about to leave for Hollywood after the sudden death of her father.

She becomes friendly with PETER GARDNER, political reporter, and shows him a scenario she has written. Peter gets Linda a job as society reporter.

DIX CARTER, with whom Linda is in love, goes abroad for a year. His letters are far between, and Linda tries to forget him. She becomes engaged to Peter, who postpones the date of the wedding.

Peter writes a play, submits it to a producer who tells him to "try Hollywood."

HONEY HARMON, film actress, comes to Newtown on a "personal appearance" tour.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER VIII

NEWTOWN didn't close its shops the day Honey Harmon arrived to shed her cinematic glory over its modest environs. Nor did its mayor meet her train with the keys to the city. But what the town lacked in civic welcome, the residents made up by their massed attendance at the Palace. Complete from whole families to Linda Bourne and Pete Gardner, they waited patiently in line for the tickets that would give them first-hand knowledge of what a real movie star could do, as an entertainer.

Unfortunately there was little that this one could do that night. True, she gave them an excellent chance to see how lovely one small, golden-haired dynamo could be in the flesh. A glittering halo in her famous blond hair, a sheath of white satin, a coat of snowy ermine and the famous diamond bracelets did well by the picture, but the husky tones that only Honey Harmon boasted were lost. The rosebud mouth smiled appealingly. Blue eyes looked out sadly from under nearly-inch-long blackened eyelashes while Honey's manager explained to a disappointed audience that Honey was ill. Brave little thing that she was, she felt she could not let her public down, but she could not. A cold had developed into something serious and she had lost her voice. She spread her hands, bowed and blew them kisses and became less real to them than her shadowed self that appeared later on the screen.

Pete, sitting beside Linda in the darkened theater, was, for once, more conscious of the picture than the girl beside him. He watched the screen with absorbed attention, and slipped the ever ready scrap of paper from his pocket to make of the famous heroine a glided, swept and stormed across the silver sheet. "Bravo!" he said once under his breath.

THAT night, when the picture was over, Pete literally dragged Linda to the Mason House, Newtown's leading hotel, "for supper" he said. And when they had ordered the usual chicken sandwich

CONVENTION IS CONDUCTED BY CHURCH GROUP

BREA, April 30.—Christian churches of Orange county and of Whittier and vicinity, comprising the Santa Ana district, held an all day convention at the Brea Christian church Tuesday. The Rev. John T. Stivers, of Santa Ana, president of the district, presided.

The morning session opened with devotion, led by the Rev. F. V. Stipp, pastor of the Brea church. Panel discussions followed with the Rev. Lon L. Chamblee, of Fullerton, leading in the topic, "The Church and the Community." "Membership Opportunities" was the topic on which the Rev. Will C. Cheverton, of Whittier, spoke and a four hour sermon was then preached by the Rev. Morris Schellenberger, of Anaheim.

Following luncheon, at which hour women of the Brea church comprised the hostess group, the afternoon session opened with Mrs. Madge Smith of Indianapolis, speaking on missionary activities.

A skit which demonstrated the value of missionary work was presented by women of the Brea church, including Mrs. A. M. Ferrero, Mrs. Rachel Sutcliffe, Mrs. Ray Brawley, Mrs. Marie Tippin, Mrs. William Phillips and little Martha Lee Brawley.

Two state secretaries, Wayne Neal and Neal McGowan, spoke during the afternoon and the speaker of the evening was the Rev. William Holder, of Orange, formerly a missionary in the Belgian Congo.

Election of officers for the district was effected at the evening meeting. The Rev. Mr. Stipp being selected as president for the coming year. Working with him as district representative on the state board of education will be the Rev. Mr. Cheverton, of Whittier, and the Rev. Mr. Chamblee, of Fullerton, was made a member of the state board.

The conference resolution committee brought in a resolution commending the Brea church for its accomplishment in acquiring its present new church. Women of the church, directed by Mrs. Ray Wheeler, served the 6:30 o'clock dinner.

and coffee, he excused himself and made a bee-line for the desk. Was Miss Harmon staying there?

She was, but she had gone directly from the theater to the Newtown Hospital. The cold in her throat was as serious as her manager had claimed. When Pete heard this he smiled with satisfaction. Hardly an expression one would expect at such news.

Pete did not mention his visit to the hotel desk to Linda. Nor did he tell her that the next morning he ordered—after personally selecting them—a box of long-stemmed roses sent to Miss Honey Harmon, Newtown Hospital. And thereafter enclosed a card marked simply: "You were charming last night."

That day he made two telephone calls to the hospital. Miss Harmon had lost her voice quite completely. Yes, it was likely that she would remain for a few days.

Three days later, dressed to what he called "the gills" (by which he meant his shoes were neatly shined, his English suit well-pressed and he wore a low stiff collar) he presented his card at the hospital after scribbling "Representing the Newtown Blade" across his name.

HONEY looked like a picture titled "Hollywood Star Receives Reporter in Hospital." A little-girl hair ribbon bound the golden hair that flowed over a lace pillow. The darkened lashes dropped shadows on her unrouged cheeks.

"Please don't try to talk," Pete said hungrily, looking at her face. She looked back at him, not so hungrily but appreciatively. This was nice.

"But I can," she said with a throaty huskiness. "And I want to. The flowers were divine. And I adored the message."

Pete looked embarrassed. "I didn't know I was going to have to come to see you officially when I sent them." He said it quite simply. "Have to come?" she asked with a questioning smile.

"Say, you don't think I'd have dared to come on my own?" Pete managed to make it sound the way the words might. "You're from the paper?"

"Oh, you've come from the paper?" she pouted.

"They want a story about your illness. I don't usually do this sort of thing, but they wanted . . . the . . . Pete was becoming modest—"well, you know, they took me off a big story to get it."

"Oh, you're the star reporter?" Honey reversed their roles. She sat at the feet of a great man.

"Nonsense," answered Pete, and proceeded to act like a star reporter for the next 10 minutes while he questioned and made voluminous notes. He wrote and Honey

WELCOME TO THESPIANS

Everyone in Santa Ana will join in extending greetings tonight to visiting community players who come to this city to take part in the tenth annual Southern California tournament of One Act Plays originated by the Santa Ana Players' association.

It is a matter of pride to this city, to have the whole-hearted response of amateur players' groups of the Southland, to plan for the annual hospitality. It is a matter of even deeper pride to learn what sportsmanship and co-operation exists among these groups. Huntington Beach Community Players have exemplified this, we think. Their group was to have been present tonight to assist in the opening program in the Ebell auditorium.

Some unforeseen accident made it impossible at the last minute, for the cast to appear. But that sense of co-operation that is so valuable a part of these annual events, was so strong in this competing group that, rather than leave a vacancy difficult for the host association to fill at such short notice, the Players arranged to send a one-act to appear in their place.

So we all join in a special welcome to the young people of Huntington Beach High school, who will present the play they are planning to enter in a similar competition in Pasadena for high school dramatic groups.

THE SELF DOUBLE CROSS

Orange county newspapers in the last few days have carried in their columns court records of recent distasteful happenings.

It does not hold, however, that they are less likely to happen in any other vicinity. Disclosures such as these serve to awaken a community to facts.

There long has been an underside of the world's life where standards of honor and self-respect seem to have disappeared.

When honor goes, everything goes with it—home, business, family, character, and social relationships. In a word, each of us holds the baton over his own destiny.

When a man takes to the double-cross of society as a whole, he winds up by double-crossing himself.

What has happened here, startling as it appears, is no more than what could be found elsewhere. Handling of the situation in the local courts—in cases so far disposed of—has met with public approbation.

County authorities have gone about the matter in the right manner, striving to clean up an unwholesome condition instead of permitting its roots to spread. Speedy justice of this sort should serve as an indelible lesson.

THE FABLE OF THE BEES

Now that we are living over the philosophy of life of the beginning of the Eighteenth Century, as explained by Mandeville in his philosophy expressed under the Fable of the Bees, or "Private vices, Public benefits," we had the library get us Mandeville's doggerel verse on the subject.

It certainly was a nice philosophy to believe that private vices were public benefits; that you could be wicked and do good at the same time; that you could destroy and others have more. We are now repeating the same reasoning that governed Mandeville. Any reader can see the error of the philosophy of this but so many people now fail to see that society is not being benefitted by limiting production and making things scarce.

The book is out of print long past so we are reproducing herewith the moral of the fable, just to let the readers know how the philosophy of the past compares with that of the present:

"Then leave complaints: Fools only strive
To make a Great an Honest Hive
To enjoy the world's conveniences,
Be famed in War, yet live in Ease,
Without great Vices, is a vain
Eutopia seated in the Brain.
Fraud, luxury and pride must live,
While we the benefits receive;
Hunger's a dreadful plague, no doubt,
Yet who digests or thrives without?
Do we not owe the Growth of Wine
To the dry shabby crooked vine?
Which, while its shoots neglected stood,
Chok'd other plants, and ran to wood;
But blest us with its noble fruit,
As soon as it was ty'd and cut;
So vice is beneficial found,
When it's by justice lopt and bound;
Nay, where the people would be great;
As necessary to the State,
As hunger is to make 'em eat.
Bare virtue can't make nations live
In splendor; they, that would revive
A golden age, must be as free,
For acorns, as for Honesty."

BRIGANDS AND GOVERNMENT

Usually in the period of decay of government, sooner or later, the government is taken over by a group of brigands.

We had a very interesting visit the other day with Mr. John Rustgard, author of "The Problem of Poverty," issued by Appleton. He is a very keen student of history, has done a great deal of traveling in most all parts of the world and he reports that when he was in Germany at the beginning of the Hitler regime, the great mass of the people were very much dissatisfied. When he was there in 1934, there was more smiles and more singing among the common people. It was his contention that a wanted discipline. They were tired of the internal strife. It was his belief that the transition to country would eventually be controlled by a transition period by brigands.

weather probably help but wonder, however, so very far off from this country in our federal government is obliged to repudiate its word in the line of changing, without the consent of the creditor, its obligation to pay in gold. It is not a country of laws, but a country regulated by the law of those in control. They arbitrarily rule how much each man is to contribute; there is no universal rule. We are now in the condition that there is a government within a government. We have here on our own coast groups of men who would like to work on the ships but the government is so weak that it cannot give the men willing to work protection. The internal government seems to be stronger than the central government. When people cannot be protected in their right to work at higher wages and better conditions than they can get in any other thing, we are in a very precarious position. As the internal government gets stronger than the national government, the condition becomes more serious.

THE BUSINESS OF BUSINESS

Daniel C. Roper, Secretary of Commerce, set forth a 10-Point Program for business.

It would seem that, in order to understand what we are talking about, we must define business. It is evident that Secretary Roper regards business as some abstract strawman that is definitely responsible to Society. Business, as we have repeatedly said, in the final analysis, is nothing but an exchange of services. The purpose of business is not, as Roper seems to think, to give employment and make work, but the sole purpose of business is to reduce work—to reduce the human energy—the fraction of a man's life required to get a unit of things. Another way of saying the same thing is, the purpose of business is to raise the real wages—the real living standards of all the people—of all the workers. Roper seems to have the idea that the purpose of business is to make work while the real purpose is to do exactly the opposite—to reduce work. This cannot be done by wishes or by dictation. The only way it has ever been done, down through the ages, is to use better instruments, better tools, better agencies, better cooperation; finding the job that every human being is best qualified to do and letting him do the work for which he is best fitted. This is the way to produce the greatest amount of goods with the least work.

So long as the government, by its laws and regulations, arbitrarily restricts the natural and free division of labor, there will not be enough production to reward the workers at wages sufficient to induce them to accept work.

The sooner we realize this, instead of painting aspirations that we all desire and vaguely insinuate that some one is preventing these aspirations from being accomplished, and specify or draw a blue-print as to how we can accomplish our common aims, then will we be able to bring these things about.

A friend is a person with whom I may be sincere. Before him, I may think aloud.

Day By Day In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright, 1935)

WASHINGTON, April 30.—The Democrats in the senate thought they were executing a clever anti-Republican maneuver in demanding that the Vandenberg resolution, which asks for details of AAA payments above $10,000, should also include the names of large corporations receiving benefits from the tariff laws of the United States in 1931. But actually the move may prove a boomerang.

For nearly four years, the advocates of a lower tariff have been wondering why the Democrats have failed to keep their platform pledge to repeal the Hawley-Smoot tariff law, which was a Republican measure. Now as the data come out concerning the subsidies which the tariff has given, the query will naturally arise as to why the Democratic party, with an overwhelming majority in both the senate and the house of representatives and a Democratic president in the White House has done nothing about it.

Certainly, if the figures which the tariff commission is obliged to provide within 60 days show that American industries have been receiving subsidies, the controversy will arise during the campaign. This will revive the tariff issue at a time when the Democrats have been anxious to let it slumber, especially since such organizations as the American Federation of Labor have taken a staunch position to the effect that the protective tariff protects American labor.

The condemnation of the Hawley-Smoot tariff law, which the Democratic national convention adopted in 1932 and which Mr. Roosevelt as a candidate accepted, as he said, at 100 per cent, reads as follows:

"We condemn the Hawley-Smoot tariff law, the prohibitive rates of which have resulted in retaliatory action by more than 40 countries, created international economic hostilities, destroyed international trade, driven our factories into foreign countries, robbed the American farmer of his foreign markets and increased his cost of production.

"To accomplish these purposes and to recover economic liberty we pledge the nominees of this convention, and the best effort of a great party, whose founder announced the doctrine which guides us now, in the hour of our country's need, 'equal rights to all, special privileges to none'."

The same Democratic platform pledged the party to a "competitive tariff for revenue, with a fact-finding commission free from executive interference, reciprocal tariff agreements with other nations, and an international economic conference designed to restore international trade and facilitate exchange."

The Democrats have developed a system of reciprocal trade agreements, but not on a general basis of a "competitive tariff for revenue." They have left untouched in many instances the rates of the Hawley-Smoot law. As for an "international economic conference," the one that was called by President Hoover before he left office and held in London in 1933 was broken up by Mr. Roosevelt in July of that year. No conference has been called since that time.

Whether the retention of the protective principle and a removal of excessive tariff benefits that block international trade is or is not a wise policy is secondary at the moment to the fact that the Vandenberg resolution affords an opportunity to revive the tariff issue for the coming campaign. It would be welcome to some Republican states, where there has always been a relationship expressed on the stump between low tariffs and unemployment, and it would be welcome to other states, agricultural in particular, which want to know why the cost of the things the farmer buys is kept high through undue tariff protection, whereas the prices of farm products are not correspondingly increased. The Democrats can hardly be in the position of defending the protective tariff in the west or even assailing it in the east, for their record in accepting the Hawley-Smoot law for the last three years is bound to be a matter of discussion and there is no likelihood of any tariff revision at the present session, which is the last before the country votes on candidates for the presidency and congress.

APRIL 30, 1911

Many apricot growers gathered at the city hall Saturday afternoon for the adjourned annual stockholders' meeting of the Orange County Dried Fruit Association. Election of directors resulted in a group composed of Victor Montgomery, I. G. Bernicke, C. F. Bennett, W. C. Crawford, W. F. Greenleaf. Plans of the packing house committee were accepted and the building with machinery and equipment is to get under way at once.

Nationwide disasters today include a $100,000 fire which swept the business heart of Oakland this morning at 2 o'clock; the death of 11 members of a school teachers' special excursion party when their train was derailed and burnt near Easton, Pa.; destruction of nearly $1 million dollars worth of property in a fire in Bangor, Me., and a tornado which struck Sudalia, Mo.

A shooting affray after midnight Saturday in Los Alamitos, called Sheriff Jernegan with Corporal Winbiger to that locality where Tiburcio Cabello was taken into custody and today is in the county jail charged with the murder of Esteban Gutierrez and Miguel Gonzales. Gutierrez was slain instantly, falling on the same spot where Deputy Constable Juan Orozco was killed three years ago by Rafael Borrego, now exclaiming his crime in San Quentin.

Little Renny's Note Book

Sam Cross was sitting on his front steps looking unsatisfied and saying, Golly darn the luck, this is the last time, believe me, I'll show them.

Who, what's a matter? I said, and he said, Everything's a matter and this is the last time you'll see me on these front steps or even in this neighborhood, because for the simple reason I'm going to run away from home tonight and I can have the satisfaction of helping me do it.

G, how? I said, and he said, Come around after supper and I'll show you and I'll have my things all packed ready to go, and you keep on whistling and my father will tell me to go to the front door and make you shut up because if there's one thing he don't care for it's whistling, and I'll pretend to go and do it, only instead of that I'll be on my way out forever.

Well why can't you just waxy out by yourself? I said, and he said, How can I, I have to have a good excuse, don't I?

And he made me promise, and after supper I snuck out and went up to his house and started to whistle kind of low and mysterious and nothing happened so I started to whistle a little louder and nothing still didn't happen so I started to whistle all my might, and after a while I didn't have any whistle left to whistle any more at all, so I yelled Hay Sam, hay Sam, a while and then I saw, O well heck I'll ring the bell and be done with it.

Which I did and somebody opened the front door and it was Sam, saying Good night what did you want to go and ring the bell for, now you've went and spoiled the whole thing.

Why, how? I said, and Sam said, Shh, do you want them to hear us?

And he quick shut the door again and I went home, thinking, Darn that guy, he must think I'll believe anything.

Which I pretty near will.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

IT DON'T MAKE SENSE

It don't make sense! I know that this is not grammatical, but it is what an old man with little formal education just said to me as he asked a series of incisive questions about his taxes. His questions exposed many absurdities and inconsistencies in the taxation schemes of the middle western state in which he lives.

The other day the New York Times asked similar questions about the New York taxation program, such questions, for instance, as the following:

Why is a citizen of New York allowed a lower rate for his "earned" income than for his "unearned" income in his federal tax, but not in his state tax?

Why is he allowed to deduct his state income tax paid in 1935 from his income as reported on his federal return, but not allowed to deduct his federal income tax from his income as reported in the state return?

Why is his income from the sale of securities or other property subject to the "normal" tax but not subject to the "emergency" tax? In every state a flood of questions must arise in the minds of thoughtful taxpayers.

Let's keep asking our political leaders these questions as they arise in our minds.

How far can we go with the theory that the economic well-being of the masses is improved when we take vast sums from the people and the people's enterprise and spend it, sometimes very foolishly, in vast government projects of permanent or transitory importance?

We have gone pretty far on this theory. Have we adequately checked up on our results, not in campaign speeches, but ruthless audits of the outcome?

England tried this theory with a vengeance, but later repented and took a different tack. Have we checked her results? It might pay to do this.

EVENINGLESSONS

"Now what's the matter?"
"I can't do these examples."
"What's the reason you can't?"
"Didn't you learn how in school?"
"Yes-s, but now I can't get them right. They won't come even."
"Come even? My goodness, is that all the idea you have about those problems? Bring them over here and I'll try to get something into your head. Seems to be the more you learn the worse you get."
"I can't help it. If she would explain—"
"Never mind that. Read the first one."
"A man paid two hundred and fifty dollars quarterly interest on a 5 per cent mortgage. What was the amount of the mortgage?"
"You ought to do that in your head. The answer is twenty thousand dollars."
"But I have to know how you got it."
"Look—250 by 4 over 5. See? cancel. Answer, $20,000. See?"
"But I don't understand. She doesn't do them that way."
"Steven, think. Use your head. What does this thing mean? Think for pity's sake."
"I am thinking."
"Then say something. What is a mortgage? What does this five per cent mean? What's this all about anyhow?"
"That's just what I don't know."
"You'd know if you used your head. Think, can't you?"
"No, I can't think. You've mixed me all up."
"All right, Steven Edwards, don't you ever come to me for help again. How your teacher stands up—What is a mortgage?"
"It's something you have to pay that's for a house."
"Good gracious. How does the mortgage come to be on a house?"

"I guess somebody put it there."
"My—I never—Go to bed. GO TO BED."

Son heaved a breath of relief and scampered out of the room. Father wiped his brow and took a deep breath.

"You ought to have more patience," said mother gently. "Patience? Can't he think?"
"I don't believe they know how to think about a problem they don't understand."

"Why doesn't he understand then? He goes to school? He isn't dumb?"
"I don't believe he knows what the words mean. What does he know about mathematics? How can he think about them if he doesn't understand them?"

"That is close to the cause of the child's trouble. Many children do not understand the terms used in their lessons. The language gets in the way. Until they understand its meaning they cannot do intelligent work. Before a pupil can work out problems, even simple ones, he must have mastered the ideas involved. That means he must not only read words; he must read their meanings, catch their implications, interpret them on the basis of his past experiences."

Before assigning problems of any sort teach the children to read them. Reading is a highly complicated mental process. Too often it stops with the word calling. Dig deeper if you would have children think.

Evening is a sad time for teaching.

Editor, Register:

We are now commencing another election year with enormous campaigns that concern the entire country. We are in the midst of a hazard that we cannot escape. We believe our vote helps yet we are unable to meet and become acquainted with the candidates. One thing, however is true: If we would not criticize, the executive would be more efficient. Yet if we disagree with one lot of his political philosophy, we think that he should be removed. All the candidates for the presidency are interested in the general welfare of the people.

When we have trouble with our autos we go into a garage and tell the person in charge. He examines it and does what he thinks best. We do not stand around and criticize every move he makes. We are ignorant usually of mechanics and put our faith in him. We could study this field, but there is no need of it when we can have an expert do it for us.

Likewise we elect an expert to handle the political affairs of our nation. We should take special care to study the platforms of all parties without bias before voting. Then if our candidate loses, it only hinders all things to criticize. PUT YOUR FAITH IN WHO THE MAJORITY WANTS. This is the only way for economic progress. You've had your vote, so shut up; but be sure you study everything before you cast your vote, that is, if you vote. It is best to not vote than to guess, because then those that know the men will probably elect the most able.

I hope that you will allow these views of mine to appear before your readers.

Thanking you in advance,

Editor, Register:

Through the columns of The Register's clearing house a warm controversy exists as to whether the people of Orange county desire a penitentiary located here. Does any state or county want a penitentiary? About as badly as they want a dust storm or the black plague.

The fact that penitentiaries must be built is a sad commentary on our Christian civilization for it is proof that crime is on the increase while our wise men combat in the same old way by building houses to confine the criminals. Is there no better plan? About 50 per cent of crime is caused through idleness. The crime bills of the nation amount to eighteen billions of dollars per year, while the same amount asked for to build factories and other commercial plants that will give employment to the hands of the people would sustain industry, build homes where families can be raised in happiness and impossible.

A prison is a cancer on the body politic, an industrial plant is a monument to civilization. The masses seem to prefer the former or they would make a change. Many churches, women's organizations and other organizations fight the Townsend plan on the theory that the old people wouldn't know how to spend their monthly allowance. Brisbane has said even sillier things about them. We cannot have prosperity until extreme poverty has been eliminated. The truth is, that the masses have not yet suffered sufficiently to demand their rights as citizens, but they are arousing and when the time comes there will be many social changes for the better. Factories will be substituted for prisons, a higher standard of social life will prevail. Wages will be on a higher level, producers and consumers will be treated justly. Let us say God speed the day.
